Partial AFSPA lift in Nagaland soon?

Shah discusses contours of proposal with Assam, Nagaland chief ministers; Modi to take final call

SANA SHAKIL @ New Delhi

THE Centre is likely to explore the possibility of partially lifting the Armed Forces Special Powers Act from Nagaland and some other northeastern states. The move follows a late night meeting on Thursday between Union Home Minister Amit Shah and the Assam and Nagaland chief ministers. If the AFSPA is lifted even partially from Nagaland, it will be a first in the state's history.

Sources privy to the meeting said Nagaland Chief Minister Neiphiu Rio, Deputy Chief Minister Y Patton and former CM T R Zeliang were unanimous in their opposition to the AFSPA. But Assam Chief Minister Himanta Biswa Sarma is believed to have taken a different stand for his state.

Shah is believed to have told Rio and the others that if the AFSPA were to be lifted even partially, the modalities would have to be worked out and the state police would have to shoulder more responsibilities in maintaining law and order.

Shah is expected to brief Prime Minister Narendra Modi about the talks before a final call is taken on the matter. The Centre will have to decide before December 31 when the disturbed areas notification, which enables AFSPA, will expire in Nagaland.

Central police forces want status quo ante

As for the central police forces, they do not want any changes in deployment in the Northeast. They want a status quo, a senior official of the Union Home Ministry said

A senior Nagaland police officer said if the AFSPA is withdrawn, among the modalities that can be considered is the setting up of a unified command so that the Army can have a role in the maintenance of law and order. The government may consider lifting the AFSPA only in rural areas as the Act was needed in urban centres where insurgents groups are engaged in large-scale extortion and kidnapping, he said. There is also the possibility of continuing the AFSPA only along a 20 km India-Myanmar border stretch.

There has been a clamour to withdraw the AFSPA after the tragic incident in Nagaland's Mon district in which the Army gunned down 13 civilians in a case of mistaken identity. CONTINUED ON: P11

First arrest in Punjab gurdwara lynching

HARPREET BAJWA @Chandigarh

THE Punjab Police on Friday arrested the caretaker of a Kapurthala gurdwara, where a youth was lynched last Sunday for alleged sacrilege. The police modified the FIR to add offences under Section 302 (murder) and 307 (attempt to murder) on the main accused Amarjit Singh and 100 others. There is no evidence that sacrilege took place in the gurdwara, said the police. Amarjit Singh allegedly led a mob that killed the man. The incident took place a day after a similar case at the Golden Temple in Amritsar.

G S Dhillon, Inspector General of Police (Jalandhar range), said, "We have registered a case of murder against 100 people to set an example that lynching can't be allowed. It was a deliberate act of murder. No sacrilege ever took place in the gurdwara. The manager of the Gurdwara has been arrested. The weapons used in the crime have been seized including a pistol. Shots were also fired. The person who the weapon belongs to, is still at large and he will be arrested soon."

On Sunday, a man allegedly climbed on the Nishan Sahib (Sikh flag) at the gurdwara after which he was chased and beaten to death by a mob. Amarjit did not report the matter to the police despite there being a police post a few yards away from the gurdwara. Amarjit's son is an assistant sub inspector in the intelligence wing of Punjab Police.

Job done, House wraps up business

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Belagavi

THE 10-day winter session of the legislature, held amid the Covid-19 crisis at the Suvarna Vidhan Soudha in Belagavi after a gap of two years, was marked by the passage of the controversial anti-conversion Bill in the Assembly towards the fag end, apart from discussions on various issues like flood relief and the simmering border dispute with Maharastra.

Even as the Congress leaders cried foul over introduction of the controversial Bill, the ruling dispensation managed to push it through the Assembly. Though the government made a late bid on Friday afternoon to table it in the Council, the Congress succeeded in halting it.

The session also saw Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai, on the floor of the House, issuing a stern warning to the Maharashtra government stating that Karnataka will not give up even an inch of its land. Bommai claimed that he was satisfied with the manner in which discussions on flood relief and projects in Kalyan Karnataka and Kittur Karnataka regions were discussed during the last two days of the session. "We were able to find solutions to some of the major issues and approved several major projects in the Cabinet meeting in Belagavi. The session was fruitful," he said at the end of the day on Friday.

Nandi Hills, forests out of bounds on NY

Move to avoid any nuisance during New Years

BOSKY KHANNA @Bengaluru

Tourists will not be allowed from December 30 to January 2 at Nandi Hills

THOSE hoping to bring in the New Year in the forests, may have to be content with the urban jungle. The forest department, citing government protocol and environmental concerns, has put its guesthouses on and around Nandi Hills, and in forest areas across the state, out of bounds of tourists this year too.

This has disappointed many travellers and citizens looking for a break in the wild. Officials from the Karnataka forest department said that on December 31 and January 1, tourists and visitors are not allowed to stay in forest guesthouses because they create a nuisance. "There have been instances where influential people seek permission to stay, and create a ruckus. They drink, smoke and even misbehave with the staffers. Demand is high this year, because many people were confined to their homes due to the lockdown and restrictions. To ensure there are no untoward incidents, it has been decided that forest guesthouses will not be open for visitors this year also," said a senior forest department official.

This has not gone down well with many politicians and officials who were keen on a long weekend in a forest guesthouse.

Similarly, in Nandi Hills, no bookings are permitted for people to stay in guesthouses atop the hill. Tourists will not be allowed from December 30 to January 2, since the New Year falls on a weekend this year. Morning walkers and cyclists will also not be allowed.

Chikkaballapur DC R Latha said that this year, the government has imposed strict restrictions, keeping in mind rising Omicron cases.

Prabhakar M, a techie who was keen to hit the road and spend the New Year in a silent zone, said he was disappointed to learn that forest guesthouses are out of bounds.

However, bookings at many hotels, resorts and home stays across forest areas and on city outskirts are already booked out for New Year's Eve. "Even as government restrictions are imposed on public parties, there are no restrictions on bookings which are only increasing," said a hotelier from Mysuru.

Snag leaves west B'luru in dark

Bengaluru: Parts of west Bengaluru were plunged into darkness for over three hours on Friday evening, after a technical snag hit the Byadarahalli transformer. Residents were left in the dark when power supply was cut off, including streetlights, without any intimation. More so, after the government had repeatedly asserted that there is excessive power and there would be no power cuts. They were agitated that there was no intimation and the Bescom helpline numbers were also not working, despite repeated attempts. KPTCL officials told TNIE that power supply was cut off in four Bescom stations -- Srigandhakaval, Tavarekere, Korigehalli and Byadarahalli -- because there was a flash in the Byadarahalli current transformer feeder. They said Bescom was looking for alternative sources of power from other lines to supply power to West Bengaluru, but could not arrange for it, leading to prolonged power cut. Power was finally restored at 10.20pm.

More mishaps during evening peak hrs

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE maximum number of road crashes occur during evening peak hours, especially involving those aged between 21- 29 years and males above 40 years of age. The who-hit-whom matrix for Bengaluru also shows that women aged between 40-59 years are the most vulnerable.

This is one of the findings of the Fatality Risk Analysis of Vulnerable Road Users (VRUs) in Bengaluru done by researchers at IISc to assess the road traffic fatalities.

The study found that globally, low and middle-income countries contribute to more than 90% share of total accidents. The accident data for Bengaluru city from FIRs over seven years was collected and analysed for the current study.

"The who-hit-whom matrices were developed for identifying VRUs. Further, a risk-based model was developed to estimate fatality risk, followed by sensitivity analysis for different transport scenarios," said Prof Ashish Verma, Convener, IISc Sustainable Transportation Lab (IST Lab), Department of Civil Engineering, and author of the study.

The who-hit-whom matrix for Bengaluru signifies that two-wheeler riders, pedestrians and bicyclists account for nearly 90 per cent of the total fatal accident victims. The VRUs share the same road space with other motorized modes. This increased exposure raises the risk of fatality, the study says.

"The study highlighted that high bus scenario, with 80 per cent of total motorised distance travelled by bus, would reduce the risk of fatality to a larger extent. This calls for sustainable transport measures to push private vehicle users to shift to public transit services," Verma said.

The major threats to VRUs are two-wheelers, cars, buses and heavy goods vehicles or lorries as they account for the maximum crash fatalities. Also, two-wheeler road users were observed to have faced risk from right-of-way elements including median, kerbs and electric posts. In case of pedestrian fatalities, the major threat is from two- wheelers followed by cars or jeeps.

Platform by engineering graduates to help students chart higher edn path

PEARL MARIA D'SOUZA
@ Bengaluru

TO tackle the problems in the higher education system and the concerns over unemployment among the youth, two graduates from RV College of Engineering, have established a platform called 'Sapientury'. The platform will be used to equip students with academic and psychological know-how to tackle college and thereafter.

Their module, Chiguru, was rolled out to students and managements of 12 colleges in and around Bengaluru on Saturday. The module is created to help students transition smoothly from Class 12 to selecting a professional course, choosing a particular domain and also informs about their employment avenues.

Kushal SL and Komala Chenna, who studied Aerospace Engineering, set up the education management platform 'Sapientury' in 2020. Komala was concerned that "a large number of undergraduates -- more than 60 percent -- were without jobs. They just are not employable." She saw a solution in changing the way education is perceived -- use it as a tool rather than a mandate to grow in life.

Kushal, on the other hand, found that the current education system does not teach one how to live, and wanted to contribute to radically change how adults are educated.

The 12 colleges are given free access to a learning management system by which students and teachers can track their academic progress and know where more training may be required, Kushal said.

Unnatural deaths on railway tracks to be recorded by app

S LALITHA @ Bengaluru

THE Government Railway Police (GRP) is making use of a novel system to prepare its Unnatural Death Report (UDR) on railway tracks. An app developed by the Karnataka State Remote Sensing Applications Centre (KSCRAC) will be used to capture all details with location accuracy and related geo-tagged photos of any deceased person.

This innovative usage of technology was initiated by Additional Director General of Police Bhaskar Rao. The application is now being utilised by railway cops on a full-fledged basis following the completion of trials which commenced in March.

Superintendent of Police, GRP, D R Siri Gowri explained, "The cops who visit the spot need to just log on to the Crime Location app provided on their phones.

The exact location, latitude and longitude of the body and other minute details are captured by the app. The data gets directly uploaded on the GRP server. There is a permanent record of it and it leaves no scope for any manipulation."

"Apart from better detection of the cause of death, the app can help the Railways in reducing claims amount paid to families who lose members on railway tracks. This will be done by rectifying the hot spot readings. There are occasions when murders are committed somewhere and the body is dumped on the railway tracks.

The exact capture can help us arrive at an understanding of the actual scenario. The app earlier used to take up to 90 minutes to complete the task, but this has been brought down to just 10 minutes now," she added. It was initially utilised in Bengaluru, but is now being used by GRP cops across Karnataka.

A S Rajashekhar, Group Head of KSRSAC, said the spatial mapping done by the map will help Railways identify locations which are hot spots for suicides, accidents or murders.

"For instance, it helps record data of spots like unmanned crossings, underbridges or overbridges or railway platforms where fatalities are higher in number," he added.

Data shared by GRP for this year reveals that 1,243 unnatural deaths have occurred within railway premises this year. Yeshwantpur railway police station limits recorded 189 deaths, the maximum among the 18 GRP stations in SWR, followed by Bengaluru City (167), Bengaluru Cantonment (98), Mysuru (95), Wadi (88) and Hubballi (87).

I expect they'll be heading a campaign to have our distant neighbour reinstated!

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
Cash and career matters are still on your mind, but do try to put practical issues behind you during the weekend. Life is too short to spend all your time worrying over how you are ever going to pay your way. Why not let partners take the responsibility - and the strain?

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
Make an early start if you want to get ahead of the pack. Social prospects are still bright and, although you will be giving some thought to worldly matters, you really ought to try and relax. If you don't look after yourself, then you can't expect other people to, can you?

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
It's a favourable weekend for getting financial plans into shape. Forge ahead with all family arrangements and hope for the best: someone may be arranging a very pleasant surprise for you. More pleasant, I suspect, than you could ever possibly imagine!

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
Why is that people at home seem determined to disagree with your plans or think up problems to slow you down? Perhaps it's because you failed to consult them when you were dreaming up your current schemes. It's never too late to tell them the full facts.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
Keep on the move this weekend, though you may be happier making short journeys than long. Push business matters to one side and enjoy your social life free of the cares and concerns which tend to cloud your vision. Stay active and you'll carry partners with you.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
A partnership dispute or a delay in communications should clear very soon, if it has not already done so. Turn your back on fantasy and waffle, and concentrate on what you can do of practical value. That way you will virtually guarantee your success.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
You could be in for a romantic weekend, especially if you're single. If you're spoilen for, cheer up, for there is still plenty of scope for you and your partner to give life an exciting new twist. Even though you need order, you do love fortune's unexpected turns.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
Anything which is set in motion today should have a rewarding outcome. However, there is much that still needs to be explained and you may be labouring under one or two misapprehensions. These will be gradually resolved over the next two weeks.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
If you've any spare time you may wish to devote a little energy to your long-term interests, especially your investments and savings. Most of the indications suggest that ventures entered into now will eventually prove very profitable. And that is bound to bring a smile to your face.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
It's a romantic weekend in the broadest sense. Quite aside from the intimate, emotional side of your life, you will be looking at the world through rose-tinted spectacles. Exotic cultures may beckon but, as you know, when you arrive somewhere new, you're still you. That will never change!

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
A restless mood may make it difficult to concentrate, but there will be rewards if you find yourself in unfamiliar surroundings. Social gatherings have much to offer this evening. And, in that case, why not go for broke, and take a risk with your feelings?

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
Diplomacy is still your best policy if you're trying to hang on to one particular friendship. On the other hand, if you are at the end of your tether there is no better moment to set yourself free. The Sun's alignment with Venus is gentle, creative, affectionate - and favourable.

The Karnataka High Court has permitted Esthela Louies, a community activist from Kundapur taluk of Udupi district, to offer prayers and conduct preaching at her house. However, the court imposed certain conditions —too much congregation should be avoided to prevent possible risk of spread of Covid-19, it should not disturb or cause nuisance to the neighbours and give no scope for allegations of religious conversion. Louies moved the court questioning a notice issued by the police, on the ground that praying was a religious right

K'taka sees 32 Omicron cases, at #5 in India

No link to travel, variant has spread through population, fear experts

CHETANA BELAGERE @ Bengaluru

OF Karnataka's 32 Omicron cases, 11 have no travel history. This is in keeping with the Health Ministry's data on Friday morning, which says Omicron patients in India were fully vaccinated and 27% have no travel history, reinforcing experts' fears that the variant is evadi2ng vaccines and has spread in the population.

Karnataka, which reported 13 fresh cases on Thursday, stands fifth in the country in the number of Omicron cases after Maharashtra, Delhi, Tamil Nadu and Telangana. "The current spread of Omicron in India shows that several states are reporting cases, and this only reflects how good the state of reporting is in these states, and is not the true Omicron scenario. If we are seeing local transmission without any linkage to travel, it means it is much more widespread. If you look at the timeline, this is going on since October, so we cannot say that it has not travelled to most parts already," said Giridhara R Babu, epidemiologist and member of the Technical Advisory Committee. He was speaking at a webinar on 'Next Covid Surge in India', organised by the Indian Institute of Public Health.

Data released by the Karnataka health department shows that a majority of patients have travel history from European countries, with 10 patients have travel history from the UK and two other European countries.

Of cases with no travel history, seven are from clusters in Mangaluru and Shivamogga. Interestingly, in most of these cases, especially those with no travel history, a majority of primary and secondary contacts have tested negative. Three cases of primary contacts of a person with international travel history were reported. In Udupi, an 11-year-old girl with no travel history, living in an apartment complex with more than 2,000 members, tested positive for the Delta variant while her grandparents tested positive for Omicron.

A senior doctor and member of the genome sequencing committee said ICMR is working to culture the virus. "The efficacy of vaccines is being tested against the Omicron," he said.

Apart from stricter quarantine rules for international travellers and genome sequencing of clusters, the state so far has not changed treatment protocol.

KARNATAKA REPORTS 405 FRESH CASES

After 19 days of reporting 200-300 cases, Karnataka saw 405 fresh Covid-19 cases which took the state tally to 30,03,969. With these, active cases too rose from 7,117 to 7,251. Bengaluru added 254 of Friday's cases, and the city's active cases went up from 5,742 to 5,866. There were four deaths in the state which took the total death toll to 38,305.

7-day home isolation for contacts of int'l arrivals

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

SOON after the Union Health Ministry asked the states to reactivate Covid-19 war rooms and enhance restrictions and surveillance in the backdrop of rising Omicron cases, the State Government has now directed that health officials to ensure compulsory 7-day home quarantine of all primary and secondary contacts of patients who are international arrivals.

"Though the overall infection in Karnataka is under control, obedience of quarantine by contacts of patients and international arrivals will ensure we keep numbers low. Hence the government is focusing on preventive side with contact tracing and quarantine," said a note from Munish Moudgil, Director, State War Room for Covid-19. Speaking to TNIE, he said irrespective of the country of arrival, if they test positive, then it is mandatory for any person in contact with them to quarantine at home for seven days. And international travellers from high-risk countries need to be quarantined for seven days from the date of their arrival until the follow-up and repeat RT-PCR test on the 8th day. The government has asked the health officials, deputy commissioners and district surveillance officials to steadfastly track, trace and quarantine primary and secondary contacts of persons within 24 hours of reporting of Covid-19 positive cases.

"The primary contacts should be tested on the first day and again on the 8th day and home quarantined for seven days from the date of Covid positive reporting," he said.

Meanwhile, there will be increased surveilance of such people by the voulnteers by visiting their homes to ensure complaince.

'Omicron scare could lead to panic hospitalisation'

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

IN the next seven to 10 days, the number of people reporting the Omicron variant of Covid-19 is expected to increase as preliminary evidence suggests it is more transmissible than other variants, said Dr Subramanian Swaminathan, Senior Consultant, Infectious Diseases, Gleneagles Global Health City. He was speaking at a webinar titled, 'Dealing with the Unpredictable: The Covid Crossroads'.

"The speed at which it is spreading is mind-boggling. It can reinfect 40% of people, as compared to Delta, which is at 8%. There is an increased risk of infection but severity remains unclear. In other countries, it has caused severe illness in the unvaccinated and undervaccinated," Dr Swaminathan said, adding it is doubling at a fast pace. He said the third wave has started everywhere, including in India, and that the country will need to increase genomic sequencing for the next two weeks.

Dr Randeep Guleria, director of AIIMS, New Delhi, agreed with him, saying that India is seeing the beginning of the third wave. "If cases of Omicron are high and hospitalisation rate is said to be low, in absolute numbers the number of hospitalised people will still be high. This will lead to panic among people to block beds and get admitted even for mild disease. This will be the next challenge," Dr Guleria stated.

The panel said booster doses would be required for priority groups. Dr Swaminathan said data from Israel shows that re-vaccination is good as vaccines wane over time and booster doses will prove to be beneficial. Natural immunity does add teeth to vaccine immunity, he added.

However, Dr Guleria said they need more data on booster doses, as there are people who have taken a third dose and still contracted Omicron. "Priority groups such as healthcare workers can get the booster, and data says mixing and matching vaccines is better. We need to test vaccine efficacy against Omicron, before rolling out boosters," Dr Guleria shared, adding that vaccines can be tweaked according to emerging variants.

73% attendance The 11th session of the 15th Legislative Assembly was successfully held for 52 hours at Suvarna Vidhana Soudha in Belagavi. With this, sessions were held for 40 days this year amid the Covid-19 pandemic. "217 out of 225 members attended the session and there was an average of 73% attendance in the house," Speaker Kageri said

In last-minute bid, govt fails to table anti-conversion Bill in Council

It will be taken up in next session, says Bommai on a day of drama in Upper House

SUNIL PATIL @ Belagavi

THOUGH the State Government managed to get the Karnataka Protection of Right to Freedom of Religion Bill, 2021, passed in the Assembly by a voice vote, it could not table the Bill in the Council despite making all possible attempts at the fag-end of the winter session on Friday.

Even as the government was keen to table the Bill, commonly called the anti-conversion Bill, in the Upper House, opposition parties resisted unitedly and prevented its tabling which was not on the day's agenda.

Having enough numbers in the Assembly, the government did not have any trouble adopting the contentious Bill, despite a massive uproar by the Opposition. The ruling party faced several obstacles in the Council as it not only lacked the required strength, but the Bill was also not listed on the agenda.

On Friday, dramatic developments unfolded after the Council resumed in the second half. Since the Assembly was adjourned sine die by 2pm, members of the Upper House too thought the session would end after the first half of the day.

Chairman Basavaraj Horatti surprised many by adjourning the session till 3pm. A few Opposition members, who had even booked their return flights to Bengaluru in the evening, were in a dilemma.

According to sources, the government had planned to table the Bill in the Council in the second half of the session, but was in a state of confusion, with some of its own legislators having left for Bengaluru. Several BJP legislators did try to convince Horatti in the latter's chamber that they be allowed to table the Bill. But Congress legislators S R Patil, Narayanaswamy and B K Hariprasad opposed it.

Council session in progress at Suvarna Vidhana Soudha in Belagavi on Friday

However, when the House resumed at 4pm, the ruling party tried to table the Bill, but the Congress and JDS opposed it. Patil, Narayanswamy, Hariprasad, CM Ibrahim and Marithibbegowda said the tradition of the House was being violated as the Bill was not on the agenda.

"Let the House first discuss the subjects which are on the agenda and then table the Bill. And if it is not possible, adjourn the house till Monday and then table it. We don't have any objection," said Patil. When some ruling party members insisted that Horatti allow them to table the Bill, commotion prevailed with both sides indulging in a verbal duel.

To overcome the stalemate, Horatti adjourned the House for five minutes and convened a meeting of five members from the ruling and opposition groups in his chamber.

Last-ditch attempts to table the Bill, too, failed as the Opposition insisted that the chairman adjourn proceedings till Monday. When the House resumed, Horatti adjourned it sine die. Later, when asked why the government failed to pass the Bill in the Council, Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai said the ruling party did not have the required numbers to get it through in the Council, and that some members were not present. "We did not want to bring it forcibly and hence, have decided to table it in the next session," he added.

'Draft wasn't placed before Cabinet in 2016'

BENGALURU: A day after the ruling Bharatiya Janata Party embarrassed the Congress by furnishing documents showing that the draft of a Bill similar to the anti-conversion Bill had been prepared by the Congress government in 2016, the then law minister TB Jayachandra has clarified that it had not come before the Cabinet. "It is true that the proposal was made. But when it was not discussed in the Cabinet and did not get its nod, the government cannot be made a party to it. I also did not sign any draft," he told reporters in Sira while campaigning for the ensuing ULB polls. "It was nothing but a piece of paper floating around departments. Making it an issue is not relevant as it was not even discussed in political circles then," he claimed. ENS

Congress protests hit House proceedings, says Bommai

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Belagavi

CLAIMING that the 10-day winter legislature session at Suvarna Vidhana Soudha was effective and fruitful, CM Basavaraj Bommai accused the Congress of resorting to double standards whenever the ruling party tried to initiate discussions on important issues.

He told the media at the end of the session on Friday that his ministers had responded to all vital issues raised by members of both Houses, with regard to North Karnataka. He also hit out at Congress for repeatedly staging protests during the session. "Discussions have been held for the past two days on the irrigation sector. When Water Resources Minister Govind Karjol was ready to reply, the Opposition staged a dharna in the Assembly," he said.

Stating that his government was committed to developing North Karnataka, Bommai said that several important projects were cleared in the cabinet a few days ago. Efforts have been made to stabilise Hescom's financial status, and railway and irrigation projects of North Karnataka were approved.

The Congress adopted double standards when the anti-conversion Bill was brought in the Assembly and later opposed the APMC Bill, which was passed by them earlier, said Bommai. He said his government had announced several major decisions by clearing supplementary estimates in which additional fund allocation had been made for important projects. He clarified that his Davos visit was cancelled due to Covid situation.

No discussion, solutions for N K'taka, rues Oppn

ARUNKUMAR HURALIMATH @ Belagavi

A huge protest by Congress members, demanding time to discuss developmental issues of North Karnataka, brought down the curtains on the two-week winter session with Water Resources Minister Govind Karjol responding on the issue. It was expected that the session would devote time to discuss developmental issues of backward North Karnataka and come up with solutions for regional imbalance. But a half-day discussion in the Assembly did not throw up any solutions.

Taking part in the discussion earlier, Opposition leader Siddaramaiah alleged that then deputy PM L K Advani had rejected the demand for special status to Hyderabad-Karnataka region. But in 2013, PM Manmohan Singh gave special status (Article 371J).

To address regional imbalance, CM S M Krishna formed the Prof Nanjundappa Commission, and Congress governments have released Rs 29,942 crore since 2007-08, he said.

Listing the BJP's failure to keep its election manifesto promise, he said the party claimed to have release Rs 1.5 lakh crore for irrigation projects but had released only Rs 33,835 crore. He also claimed that in 2013, BJP promised to spend Rs 50,000 crore on irrigation but spent Rs 51,217 crore through their five-year rule.

When Siddaramaiah demanded more time to discuss the Mahadayi, Tungabhadra and other irrigation projects of North Karnataka, Speaker Vishweshwar Hegde Kageri declined, saying the House was to be adjourned after the first session, which led to the protest.

Karjol said that the Congress government was responsible for drought and underdevelopment in the region for many decades as it had not agreed to give Rs 2 crore to complete the Koyna Dam to supply water to North Karnataka.

Two sessions a year in Belagavi proposed

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Belagavi

LEGISLATIVE Council Chairman Basavaraj Horatti on Friday said a proposal to conduct the legislature session twice a year in Belagavi has been made to Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai.

Addressing the media here, Horatti said, "It has been decided to train legislators in order to enhance the sanctity of the Council. Efforts will be made to make our Upper House a model Council. There is also a proposal to construct a Legislators' Home (Shasakara Bhavan) and a secretariat in Belagavi. It has been discussed with the Chief Minister."

Horatti said there were quality discussions on various issues bothering North Karnataka in the last 10 days. "A total of 1,384 questions were received and 134 questions were answered on the floor, while answers were submitted in writing for 792 questions. Under Rule 72, 160 instructions have been received of which eight were discussed and answered. Under Rule 330, 111 instructions were received in which 13 proposals were discussed and answered. Three instructions out of four were converted from Rules 59 to 69 and discussed. A total of nine Bills approved in the Assembly were discussed and passed in the Council."

Horatti further said that the House discussed issues related to North Karnataka for 6 hours and 42 minutes. "All the 74 members actively participated. Legislators, who actively take part in the session and come out with best of the instructions, keeping up the sanctity of the house and contribute towards framing good laws, will be identified and conferred the Best Legislator Award each year," Horatti added.

Session could've been more productive: Experts

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

WHILE the main Opposition Congress had demanded more time for discussion on various issues, questions are being raised on the winter session was productive enough.

The Congress benches complained that they wanted more time to discuss issues in the House but, Assembly Speaker Vishweshwara Hegde Kageri summed up the proceedings and adjourned the session sine die on Friday afternoon. Opposition leader Siddaramaiah had even asked for extending the session by a week to discuss all issues.

However, political watchers have questioned whether the available time during the 10-day session was utilised effectively.

Political analyst Siddaraju said that while the session could have been longer, he recalled that they are being kept short since the 1980s to cut costs. The legislature must be convened for at least 100 days to discuss all issues. The Congress could have raised relevant issues like the alleged Bitcoin scam and the bribery issue raised by contractors, he noted. When contacted, Congress leader Krishna Byre Gowda reacted to this saying that they had asked for time to discuss the "40 per cent commission" issue a few days ago, but were denied permission.

Another political analyst, Sandeep Shastri, said both the treasury and opposition benches were just playing to the gallery. "I would like to ask if they have really raised issues of relevance to the people," he noted.

'Had opposed govt takeover of Krishna mutt'

ENS @ Udupi

FORMER minister Pramod Madhwaraj has claimed that he had approached then Chief Minister Siddaramaiah and had thwarted plans to bring the Udupi Sri Krishna Mutt under government control. He even said that he had informed Siddaramaiah that he would resign as Udupi MLA if any such an attempt was made. Pramod was speaking as a chief guest at 'Vishwarpanam' the valedictory of the Admar Paryaya on Thursday.

"Today, I feel satisfied that I played a small role in ensuring that the Krishna Mutt did not come under government control," he noted. Madhwaraj was in the spotlight recently when he appreciated Prime Minister Narendra Modi for changing the trend of selecting Padma awardees.

"Dvaita philosopher Sri Madhwacharya had installed the idol of Lord Krishna in Udupi more than 800 years ago. We are lucky to be residents of Udupi as we have the eight mutts of the great tradition," he said.

MLC faces colleagues' ire over remark on poll spend

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Belagavi

OUTGOING MLC Raghu Achar on Friday stoked a controversy when he raised the issue of huge money being pumped in during elections to win over the electorate. However, he ended up facing the wrath of fellow legislators, who, irrespective of their party affiliation, condemned the statements. BJP MLC Ayanur Manjunath came out with a strong reply, which was endorsed by others. Eventually, Achar had to apologise.

Chairman Basavaraj Horatti allowed the 25 MLCs, whose term ends on January 5, 2022, to share their experiences. When his turn came, Raghu Achar who is among those who is retiring, said, "The Council, which was earlier called as a 'floor of thinkers' has turned into a 'floor of the rich'. Many of us, including myself, have had to spend crores of rupees to get elected," he said.

He also added that the Upper House has lost its sanctity. "Earlier, senior members like M P Prakash raised important issues and worked to correct the government and its decisions. But nowadays, many people speak on one issue and spoil most of the time. There are no more intellectuals in the House," he rued.

Responding to him, Ayanur Manjunath said, "Before getting elected, many of us have protested on the roads over issues concerning the public and extended help to people in getting social, economic and educational justice.

Raghu Achar has made regrettable remarks on his last day in the House. He may have spent crores of money to get elected, but that was not so in our case as we were voted on the basis of our work." When other MLCs joined Majunath to take on Achar, the latter tendered an apology before walking out in a huff.

Veteran SR Patil bids adieu to Council

DEVARAJ B HIREHALLI @ Bengaluru

VETERAN Congress leader S R Patil, a staunch party loyalist, on Friday completed his responsibility as leader of the opposition in the Karnataka Legislative Council, and will bid adieu to the Upper House after two decades. His term comes to an end on January 5.

An authority on irrigation projects, especially in North Karnataka, he had made a thumping demand even on his last day by urging the government to complete the Upper Krishna Project at any cost. "He is a stalwart who has in-depth knowledge about his subject, and is a role model for young legislators," remarked former MLC Ramesh Babu.

When 73-year-old Patil missed the party ticket to contest the December 10 Council polls to former minister MB Patil's younger brother Sunilgouda Patil, in the dual seat of Vijayapura-Bagalkot, it came as a surprise. But the loyalist, who held the IT-BT and Science and Technology portfolio in the Siddaramaiah regime, did not turn rebel.

According to sources, this has improved his chance of getting elected to the Council again from the assembly, when seven seats fall vacant in June 2022, and of which the Congress has a fair chance of winning two. "If he is not accommodated, he may seek a ticket to contest the assembly polls from his home town Bilagi in 2023, as the Congress is expected to return to power," said one of his supporters.

When Congress under-performed in 2018, winning few seats in North Karnataka, Patil had tendered his resignation from KPCC working president's post. Interestingly, since he hailed from the Lingayat community, former CM Siddaramaiah had even floated his name for the KPCC president's post when Dr G Parameshwara vacated the post to become deputy CM in the H D Kumaraswamy-led JDS-Congress government.

Service to people is our motto: DKS

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Madikeri

KARNATAKA Pradesh Congress Committee (KPCC) president DK Shivakumar on Friday said that there is a Congress wave in Karnataka and every party worker must unite to strengthen the party.

Addressing Congress workers at a Mekedatu and Congress membership campaign in Madikeri, Shivakumar said the speedy implementation of Mekedatu project across the Cauvery will solve the water crisis of Bengaluru and other districts and also Tamil Nadu. Shivakumar also visited Talacauvery and Bhagamandala temples and offered pooja to the Cauvery. "Congress aims for the development of the state and service to people is its motto. The history of Congress is the history of our country. Join us in our Mekedatu padayatra that will commence from the project site to Bengaluru on January 9," he urged the Congress workers.

KPCC president DK Shivakumar addresses Congress workers in Madikeri on Friday

He opined that the Mekedatu reservoir will help solve the power and drinking water crisis in Karnataka. "This year, the state has recorded high rainfall and nearly 64 tmcft of water could have been stored for future use if the Mekedatu project had been completed. The project has received nod from the Centre... only environmental clearance is awaited. We will put pressure on the government to start the construction. Our fight is a non-political one. Certificates will be given to the participants of the padayatra," the Kanakapura MLA added.

TS delegation returns home empty-handed

Ministers and MPs were unable to get any written assaurance from the Centre on procuring Kharif paddy

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE

The delegation speaks to the media in New Delhi on Friday

IN what has turned out to be a wild goose chase, the delegation of TRS ministers and MPs, who camped in Delhi for six days, returned home empty-handed, unable to extract any written commitment from the Centre on procuring the entire stock of Kharif paddy produced in Telangana.

Though Union Food and Public Distribution Minister Piyush Goyal assured in Rajya Sabha that the entire stock of Kharif rice would be procured by the Centre, the TRS ministers and MPs stayed put in Delhi demanding a written assurance.

The TRS delegation left for Delhi on December 18 and met Piyush Goyal, who wanted two days time to give them clarity on the Kharif rice procurement target. However, with no written assurance coming their way, the delegation of TRS left Delhi on Friday.

Speaking to the media before leaving the national capital, Roads and Buildings Minister Vemula Prashanth Reddy warned that "if the Central government fails to procure the entire stock of Kharif rice produced in the State, we will dump the excess stock in front of India Gate in Delhi."

"The State government will procure entire Kharif paddy and pay money to farmers. If the Centre does not procure the milled rice, the Centre should be prepared to face a backlash from farmers," he said.

Agriculture Minister Singireddy Niranjan Reddy said that the Centre should do away with its condescending and supercilious behaviour while dealing with the States as though they are dependent on it for survival.

"This not good for democracy. Every one knows what happened to the previous Central government for neglecting the aspirations of States," he said.

CHARACTER BUILDING

Odisha students to be taught 'Sanskaar'

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bhubaneswar

IN a move towards character building of students, the Higher Education department on Thursday, December 23, 2021, announced to introduce a non-academic programme 'Juba Sanskaar' in all undergraduate (UG) and post-graduate (PG) colleges and universities from the start of the coming year.

While the programme will be conducted in classroom mode and referred to as Juba Sanskaar classes, there will be no assessment and evaluation or credit points attached to it, said Higher Education Secretary Saswat Mishra in a letter to principals of all UG and PG colleges.

The classes (one period of standard duration) to begin from the first week of January, will be held for all UG and PG semesters mandatorily once a month where audio-visual films on various character-building topics would be shown to students. These topics include staying away from drugs, tobacco, imbibing patriotism/volunteerism, developing a sense of respect towards women and senior citizens, among others.

The principals were directed to earmark a classroom or auditorium as Juba Sanskaar classroom with facilities to play audio-visual films. Three teachers of either NSS, YRC or NCC background will be appointed as nodal teachers to facilitate the programme. The nodal teachers will work under the guidance of a senior teacher designated as coordinator for the programme. Although this is not an academic programme, attendance of the students will be taken. Last week, the department announced the introduction of a course on 'Ethics and Values' from this academic year which would carry six credits - one credit per semester. The UG course has a total of six semesters.

BRIDGE DAMAGED

22 trains cancelled, some Chennai, K'taka services hit

ENS @ Vellore

THOUSANDS of people's holiday plans have been affected as train services between Chennai, Karnataka, and Kerala, among other places, will remain disrupted on Saturday and Sunday. While 22 express trains have been cancelled, the routes of six others have been shortened.

This is because traffic on a British-era railway bridge near Katpadi has been suspended since Thursday, after a crack was noticed on one of the bridge's pillars. The 156-year-old bridge across the Ponnai River at Tiruvalam was damaged in the heavy rains in November. The structure forms part of one of the busiest routes in the Chennai division.

Among the trains cancelled are those from Chennai Central to Mysuru, KSR Bengaluru, Mangaluru, Thiruvananthapuram, Coimbatore, Mettupalayam (Nilgiri Express), Erode (Yercaud Express), and Jolarpettai.

Trains from Mysuru to Chennai Central (12610), KSR Bengaluru to Chennai Central (Lalbagh Express - 12608) and Coimbatore to Chennai (12680) will be terminated at Katpadi. Similarly, trains from Chennai Central to Mysuru (12609), Chennai Central to KSR Bengaluru (12607) and Chennai Central-Coimbatore (12679) will start from Katpadi instead of Chennai Central.

Seven north-bound trains, including Danapur-KSR Bengaluru, Howrah-Yesvantpur, Patliputra-Yesvantpur, Patna-Banaswadi, and Bangalore Cant.-Guwahati are being diverted through Gudur.

Covid certificate a must to visit Tirumala

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Tirumala

IN the wake of Omicron threat, the Tirumala Tirupati Devasthanams (TTD) on Friday reiterated that only pilgrims with Covid-19 negative report of the test done 48 hours before their pilgrimage or full vaccination certificate will be allowed to Tirumala for darshan of Lord Venkateswara.

Though the TTD has been implementing the norm since October 1, there were several instances when pilgrims without the Covid-19 negative report or full vaccination certificate were sent back at Alipiri checkpost by security and vigilance staff.

In the wake of fresh guidelines from the Centre and the State government to curb the spread of Omicron, the TTD once again appealed to pilgrims not to visit Tirumala without the Covid-19 negative report or full vaccination certificate.

Meanwhile, the TTD sold 4.6 lakh Special Entry Darshan (₹300) tickets for January online within 65 minutes of releasing the next month quota. On an average, 7,000 darshan tickets were booked per minute. No technical glitches took place during the online sale of tickets.

New Hampi tour to showcase its eco-heritage

AMIT S UPADHYE @Hubballi

THE state government has introduced a unique package for tourists at Hampi showcasing the wild side of the heritage site. The tourists will get to visit Tungabhadra otter sanctuary, trekking inside forest area near Vijaya Vittala temple, bird watching to find the rare yellow-throated bulbul and more.

Hampi is home to several bird species. Migratory birds too visit it in large numbers. Spotting otters along Tungabhadra river is a rarity, There are certain points mapped by the forest department where otters are regularly sighted. The tour will also include visits to heritage monuments as well as to the sites of wildlife. Three government entities, Forest, Tourism and Eco Tourism Development Board have come together and have chalked a detailed tour plan. The tour will begin from Virupaksha temple in Hampi and booking can be made online through the Eco Tourism Department's website. Sidramappa Chalkapure, DCP, said that the costs for the package are being worked out and the tourists are being involved in the new package on a trial basis.

EXPERTS VISIT TREMOR-HIT AREAS IN CHIKKABALLAPUR

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Chikballapur

OFFICIALS, including scientists of Karnataka State Natural Disaster Monitoring Centre (KSNDMC), on Friday visited Chikballapur district following three earthquakes in a span of two days in the region.

The team comprising junior scientific officer Dr Ramesh Dikpal, and scientific assistant Santhosh Kumar along with the district geological staff visited various villages including Bandla Halli, Gundala Mandikallu, Jonnalahalli and Pillagundlahalli and collected first-hand information. The team also visited several houses to check cracks in the buildings and compound walls. The officials said Chikballapur district is in a safe zone and there are no chances of earthquakes. The three quakes reported within a span of a day could be due to heavy rain that lashed the district in the recent days, they said.

MAKE HASTE TO MEET THE DEADLINE FOR CARD TOKENISATION

The RBI has yet again deferred card tokenisation plans amid industry's unpreparedness and subsequent concerns about business disruption. It wanted merchants and payment aggregators to purge saved credit and debit card data from their systems from 1 January 2022, allowing data storage only in tokenised format. The guidelines were first issued in 2018, but their implementation has been deferred since, and will now have to be complied by June 2022. Digital transactions average six billion a month, or an estimated ₹14.15 lakh crore in 2020–21. Consequently, online scams too are on the rise with card frauds shooting up 34% in the last three years. Worryingly, merchants storing cardholders' data are sharing them with third parties, while reports of big banks selling data on the dark web are alarming users.

Notwithstanding the 'security shields' of payment aggregators, their weaknesses were grossly exposed when 10 million active users' data of one leading player was compromised recently. Given India's data protection bill is still in the natal ward, RBI's data security measures attempt to minimise vulnerability, keeping critical financial information secure from breaches via tokenisation. Even if tokens are breached, original card details will remain protected, while it's impossible to reverse engineer or decrypt tokens that are randomly generated by algorithms. Clearly, tokenisation shields businesses from the negative financial impact of data theft, but for smooth implementation, multiple players must collaborate, which is what is proving to be a challenge.

Industry bodies have opposed the move citing business disruption. CII estimates that 20–40% of online merchants would lose revenue due to disruption. Others fear that buy-now-pay-later and cash back schemes will see an abrupt end, while businesses fear promotions based on prior purchase history will cease, leading to customers' flight. Lastly, lenders worry about an increase in cash payments over the short-term, undoing hard-earned efforts on digitisation. While RBI's pause to ensure tokenisation doesn't inconvenience customers is encouraging, businesses and other stakeholders must make haste to meet next year's deadline even at the risk of foregoing short-term gains for the larger good.

CURIOUS TRS, BJP PLAY IN TELANGANA

The Telangana Rashtra Samithi and the BJP are playing an interesting game in Telangana. There are always daggers drawn in the public but when it comes to the crunch, they help each other out. The Congress often describes their relationship as a covert alliance. For instance, the TRS has declared a war of sorts on the BJP for not directing the Food Corporation of India to lift its entire Kharif rice stock and for being brutally frank that it would not procure parboiled rice from the upcoming Rabi season saying there is no demand. As the party continues to create a ruckus, the BJP now has declared a counter-offensive against the pink brigade. Union Home Minister Amit Shah has asked his party MPs and leaders in Telangana to take on the TRS, expose Chief Minister K Chandrashekar Rao's alleged corruption and the harassment of BJP workers by the ruling party in the state whenever they try to stage demonstrations. Yet, there seems to be some kind of an understanding between the two parties. The TRS has always helped the BJP whenever the Centre piloted controversial bills in Parliament in the past. It could need the help of the TRS again in the near future, perhaps at the time of the presidential and vice-presidential elections next year if it falls short of numbers. For, the outcome of the UP elections is unpredictable.

Remember both the TRS and the BJP came to power in the state and the Centre simultaneously and have been in the saddle for the last seven years. If BJP leaders have information on alleged corruption in the TRS regime, why haven't the central enforcement agencies launched a crackdown so far? CBI and Enforcement Directorate actions have a history of bending to suit political conveniences.

The charade of the two parties lends credence to the Congress' argument that both want to eliminate the latter from the political space as it is their common enemy. The BJP, an underdog in Telangana, wants to be seen as the principle opponent of the TRS, brushing the Congress aside, which suits KCR as he does not want the grand old party to acquire a new lease of life again.

Media's integrity is being rightly questioned as it has largely given up its core obligation to ask questions, preoccupied as it is with pushing the narrative of those in power

PATRIOTISM VS HUMANITY, AND BLINKERED MEDIA

SOUMYADIP SINHA

G S VASU

Editor, The New Indian Express
Email: vasu@newindianexpress.com

Is the Indian media facing its biggest-ever credibility crisis? Declining patronage, the consequential fall in revenue and growing accusations of being a mouthpiece of people in power have all coalesced to create a toxic mix, raising serious questions about its relevance in the overall societal construct.

Let's face it, the media in the country has never really been independent due to its undesirable and excessive dependence on governments of the day for survival. For as long as it worked, it was a cosy arrangement. Both sides operated in a mutually understood but unstated sphere, with the media claiming to be independent and the governments not disputing it, knowing full well it could throttle it within a blink.

What has exposed us now is that this carefully crafted image of neutrality has been shattered. The media's integrity is being rightly questioned as it has largely given up its fundamental obligation to ask questions, preoccupied as it is with pushing the narrative that those in power would want the people to believe. We have reduced ourselves to being stenographers and not journalists; gotten used to predetermined questions and answers while branding them as exclusive interviews; have no qualms in posing to the camera with those in power and then amplifying it on social media to establish loyalty; the long-held belief that news columns are sacrosanct is gone with not many being able to distinguish between paid articles and advertisements; television anchors vie with each other every evening to do a better job of being apologists for the government; we have taken upon ourselves the onerous task of ensuring electoral victory for parties of our choice; and we no longer question mixing religion with politics and instead become part of that process with the tag line, "non-stop coverage on your favourite channel" (no one knows whose favourite—viewers or rulers). So, why crib about declining patronage and respect, exceptions notwithstanding?

It's not as if we have stopped asking questions of only the Union government and those representing it. We don't ask questions even of those ruling in the states. It took actor Swara Bhasker to seek a direct response from Mamata Banerjee on her stance on the Unlawful Activities Prevention (Amendment) Act (UAPA) and the answer was anything but direct. In what sense is she an alternative to Narendra Modi, as she is seeking to establish, is difficult to comprehend.

To view this in isolation would, however, be a mistake. Large sections of our people have consciously chosen what we have today: disdain for intellectuals; normalising instant justice (remember how the Hyderabad Police were felicitated for killing the alleged rapists of a young woman); controlled mass media; sweeping powers to the military in troubled states; and a draconian process to identify enemies/scapegoats (Sudha Bharadwaj, Disha Ravi). What all this points to is anybody's guess but it works in an unsettling way.

As acclaimed long-standing UK journalist, John Kampfner, asks in his book Freedom for Sale, how many would actually complain if repression is selective and applied only to those who challenge the status quo? The number is negligible. The vocal ones would be a few journalists who criticise the government or show it in poor light; select lawyers who defend the basic rights of people; and activists who cross the line. The rest of the population has all the freedom to travel wherever they want and do whatever they wish, and would obviously remain unaffected by the curbs on public freedom as long as their private freedom is granted. Call it benevolent dictatorship, as one senior IPS officer put it to me. Who cares if Muslims or Christians are targeted during Friday or Sunday prayers or if a band of Hindutva protagonists openly call for a genocide.

Like in the case of the media, it's a collusion between a comfortable middle class and the government that enables it to abrogate even basic freedoms so long as the former are in their comfort zones without intrusion into their private spaces. If Aadhaar is now being seen as a weapon to gather every bit of information about citizens, its roots go back to the UPA regime. If UAPA is now being misused, the seeds for it were sown during the previous rule. The same holds true of even the judiciary. A few stood out in the past and some continue to show the same spirit now. But look at how even well-meaning journalists and intellectuals are carried away by the grand standing of judges at seminars and meetings without having delivered a single order that is seriously uncomfortable to the government. A committee set up to look into whether snooping ever happened is the best way to bury the issue. The judiciary's approach towards other matters, too, is largely similar.

> How many would actually complain if repression is selective and applied only to those who challenge the status quo? The number is negligible. ... The rest of the population has all the freedom to travel wherever they want and do whatever they wish ... Call it benevolent dictatorship, as one senior IPS officer put it to me

That's what thriving consumerism achieves. Citizens start demanding less of governments as long as they are comfortable. Consciously or otherwise, even the liberals are lulled into it with their criticism often being at a very superficial level without questioning the model itself. Ever since globalisation began, we always had only as much freedom as the government of the day chose to accord. In its relentless pursuit to establish this country as the land of Hindus, it's only natural that the present regime or those claiming to be its supporters seek more compliance from its patrons (media, corporates, etc.) and from citizens without a murmur of protest—from where to pray, when to pray, what to eat, how to dress, whom to marry and so on.

What this government, however, doesn't seem to realise, at least until now, is that by its very nature, capitalism uses democracy to sustain itself. Not surprisingly, corporates of India are beginning to worry about their future prospects since the social fabric is coming under strain. Not just that. Over the past few years and particularly since Covid, the middle class has been shaken out of its comfort zone. Jobs are diminishing, enormous and often unbearable amounts are being lost in medical expenses, education is getting costlier and income levels are going down for a vast majority even as we have more millionaires and billionaires than ever before. As a result, a good number among the middle class are being pushed into the lower category. Neither the rulers nor their patrons speak of Achche Din or a five trillion dollar economy anymore. The greed because of which we let our freedoms be put up for sale is hurting, and the obvious question is whether the wealth we thought was ours was just an illusion.

To put it in the words of Rabindranath Tagore, "Human freedom stands above everything. Patriotism cannot be our final spiritual shelter; my refuge is humanity. ... I will never allow patriotism to triumph over humanity." Let the troll army ponder over it. Here's wishing you all a very happy Christmas and New Year.

MAKING ROOM IN THE INN THIS CHRISTMAS

DR SUNIL CHANDY

Former Director, CMC Vellore

As December arrives, the world begins to unpack the old Christmas trees and all of its colourful hangings. Bakers soak their raisins, knead their dough and fire their ovens for yet another time of festivity. Malls get bejeweled with red, green and white festoons. Children come home to cuddle up to the warmth of friends and family. Christmas carols get rewound on the decks of music systems and radio stations. The business world revels too, with the sales of everything skyrocketing. All this to celebrate the birth of Jesus Christ, a baby born to an ordinary couple, Joseph and Mary, in Bethlehem over 2,000 years ago. Jesus's birth was prophesied in the holy scriptures, heralded by the happenings of the time and celebrated as a historical event ever after. Christmas transcends the Christian world into a universal celebration of thanksgiving, joy, peace and homecoming.

Somewhere along the highway of time in the centuries that followed, the essential Christmas narrative has been influenced by many cultural traditions that have little to do with the original event. Santa Claus, the Christmas tree, mistletoe, cakes, reindeers, etc., entered the Christmas story to give it a festive flavour. In the bonanza that Christmas has come to be, the true meaning of a birth that split time into two segments has been lost. The pandemic, uninvited and unwelcome, has been a speed-breaker on the commercial Christmas that had become a part of our lives. The festival this year, devoid of its usual fanfare, opens a new window into the setting of the first ever Christmas in all its simplicity and sensitivity. Reliving that first experience through the eyes of Joseph and Mary will make Christmas 2021 closer to the real lives we live.

Let us visit the story again in the setting of a Bethlehem village. A young couple, Joseph and Mary, are expecting their first child. There is a government order to file their census, for which they undertake a long, arduous journey on a donkey despite the advanced stage of Mary's pregnancy. The hour of reckoning arrives earlier than expected. Mary is now in pain and Joseph, a first-time father-to-be, is desperate to find a place for her to deliver. He knocks on the doors of several inns, only to be told, "there is no room in the inn". However, there is one inn-keeper who steps in empathetically. He too has no regular room but is kind enough to offer a make-shift cattle-shed and a manger with some hay for the baby. Joseph, albeit inexperienced, stands in as a midwife, errand boy and caregiver. Jesus is born, wrapped in swaddling clothes and placed in the manger. Mary must have been exhausted from the long journey and the blood loss of childbirth. She may have wanted to sleep when the shepherd guests and wise men began to arrive to offer their veneration to the child king. Yet, they receive them like good hosts and accept their gifts. But before the stipulated time, Mary and Joseph are forced to run for cover to Egypt with their newborn child to escape Herod, who is seeking to kill the baby. The rest is history.

> 'No room in the inn' is an apt metaphor that underlines the reality of what we are living with today. The world is beleaguered with constraints arising from a new world order induced by a pandemic, now in its second year. Curbs on travel today are similar to what Joseph and Mary experienced

'No room in the inn' is an apt metaphor that underlines the reality of what we are living with today. The world is beleaguered with constraints arising from a new world order induced by a pandemic, now in its second year. Curbs on travel today are similar to what Joseph and Mary experienced and Mary are forced to run for cover to Egypt with their newborn child to escape Herod, who is seeking to kill the baby. The rest is history.

'No room in the inn' is an apt metaphor that underlines the reality of what we are living with today. The world is beleaguered with constraints arising from a new world order induced by a pandemic, now in its second year. Curbs on travel today are similar to what Joseph and Mary experienced. The paucity of hospital beds and oxygen we experienced earlier this year echoes the same words 'no room in the inn'. Thousands of migrants walked a thousand miles with no room in any inn along the way. We have been forced to move indoors and secure our homes so as to not allow anyone entry. Our offices are partially closed and livelihood limited. Our relationships have become lukewarm in virtual mode. Even our creative minds are closed to enterprise. There is no room in anybody's inn, in a manner of speaking.

Jesus Christ came into this world in an awfully constrained milieu of poverty, frugality and fear. But he grew up to bring hope to all, especially those who were disadvantaged. He picked up poor fishermen as his teammates, shielded the stigmatised from assault, dined with the disliked tax collector, allowed a paralysed man to be lowered through the roof to be healed and talked to socially ostracised citizens. He showed who is a good neighbour and healed people of their illnesses. His message of love, peace and joy centred on acts of restoration. He showed that loving God was possible largely by loving fellow humans. He made rooms for all in his inn.

Christmas this year may be denuded of its usual gaiety. But in the subdued celebration of the time lies the discovery of what the true purpose of an ordinary birth of an child in an ordinary situation was. The purpose was to bring peace on earth and goodwill to all. May this be our reality this year. As we spend less on buying gifts for ourselves, let there be more giving to those who are less privileged.

May the joie de vivre of this Christmas accompany you and your families through the coming year.

Postpone polls in UP

The Allahabad High Court's call for postponing the Uttar Pradesh Assembly elections in view of rising Covid-19 cases merits consideration. If postponement of the elections is not possible, election meetings and rallies must be banned, and parties should be asked to campaign only through TV and newspapers as suggested by the court.

Booster need of the hour

This is with reference to Full vax with booster dose will work: Expert (Dec 24). The opinion expressed by Dr P V Sudhakar, Principal, Andhra Medical College, is very valid. He suggested that a booster dose should be given and that without it, protection against the virus could weaken. I hope this recommendation is taken seriously by the authorities and the necessary actions are carried out.

Speed up Omicron testing

The Centre has done well to take up the gauntlet and strengthen the Omicron fight. Prime Minister Narendra Modi, who chaired the high-level meeting, reviewed the health preparedness to tackle the Omicron challenge and urged people and the authorities to keep up the vigil against the virus. Modi emphasised the need to speed up testing to ensure quick identification of cases for timely containment as the Omicron cases in India have breached the 300-mark.

Jammu was neglected

The delimitation of constituencies in J&K cannot be said to favour one particular region. Jammu may be a Hindu dominant area but till now the Valley dominated the politics of the state. The neglect shown to Jammu could be rectified through this delimitation exercise.
Duggaraju Srinivasa Rao, Vijayawada

A thorough inquiry needed

The bomb blast at Ludhiana district court complex that left one dead is highly disturbing. A court is termed as the temple of justice and it is unfortunate that the blast has happened there. Airing opinions on who perpetrated the attack through remarks such as "anti-national elements" or "external forces" appear to be premature. A thorough inquiry alone will bring the facts for the appropriate remedial action.
K Chandrasekaran, Chennai

Religion a personal choice

When our Constitution guarantees freedom of religion to everyone, a state has no role to play (Karnataka Assembly passes contentious anti-conversion bill amid high-decibel opposition, Dec 24). How can a government ban gifts, free education and employment through a law by labelling them as allurements? The SC must intervene and protect the rights of individuals.

Ministry says cases caused by new Covid-19 variant mostly found to be mild, asks states not to let guard down

SUMI SUKANYA DUTTA @New Delhi

IN what comes as rather relieving news, an analysis of Omicron cases in India has confirmed what many studies from other countries have suggested, that the majority of the infections may be mild or even asymptomatic.

Out of 358 confirmed cases of this variant found in the country so far, an analysis of 183 cases has shown that nearly 70% of the patients were totally asymptomatic while 30% had mild symptoms.

However, this analysis done in India has also shown that the Omicron variant may be highly capable of causing breakthrough infections. A majority of the patients, who had got infected with the variant, were fully vaccinated.

Data shared by the Union health ministry on Friday showed that 358 cases of the highly transmissible variant has been confirmed in 17 states and UTs, with the highest reported from Maharashtra.

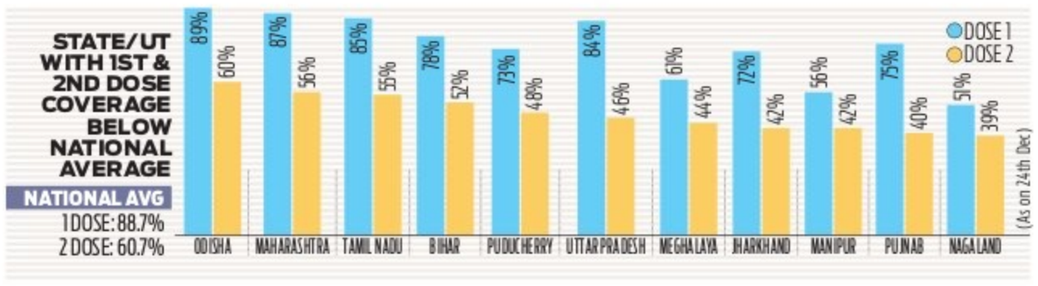
The figures showed that while 61% of the 183 cases studied were males, 121 had a history of international travel abroad while 44 others were mostly their contacts.

Also, of the analyzed cases, 87 were fully vaccinated with three having received three doses each — in countries where booster doses are being administered. Two were partially vaccinated and seven had not received any dose of the vaccine. In this group, vaccination details of 73 people were unknown, while 16 with confirmed infection were not yet eligible to receive the shots.

Commenting on these findings, Balram Bhargava, director general of ICMR, said evidence suggests that infection with Omicron does not necessarily mean severe clinical disease or symptoms. "The line of treatment of Omicron-infected individuals remains the same, as is the case with other Covid virus variants," he said.

In India, even though the number of daily cases as well as active cases has been shrinking, many cities are reporting a significant rise in cases. The government, on Friday, however, insisted that the emerging clusters are largely dominated by the Delta variant so far.

Meanwhile, early trend analysis of Omicron cases is in sync with at least three studies that have shown that the variant is less likely to result in hospitalisation than earlier strains. Data from South Africa, England and Scotland have hinted that people infected with Omicron are significantly less likely to be admitted to hospital than if they contract other strains, and at least two of the researches also emphasised on the need of booster doses.



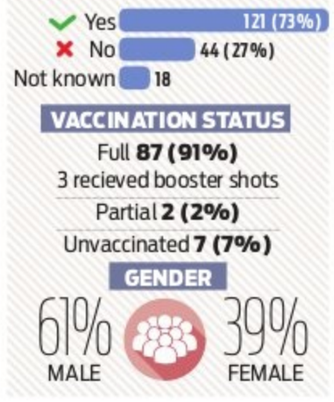
Vaccination coverage low in 11 states

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

NEARLY 61% of the adult population in India has been fully vaccinated against Covid-19. Disclosing this, authorities on Friday flagged the comparatively low vaccination coverage in 11 states, calling it a cause of "major concern."

The states where vaccination coverage is low includes some of the most populous ones such as Bihar, Uttar Pradesh, Tamil Nadu, Maharashtra, Punjab and Odisha. Nationally, 88.7 % of the 18-plus population in India has now received at least one dose of the vaccine but this percentage is lower than the national average in 11 states that also includes Nagaland, Manipur, Meghalaya, Puducherry and Jharkhand.

The coverage of full vaccination, on the other hand, at 39% is the lowest in Nagaland, followed by Punjab (40%), Manipur and Jharkhand (42%) and Meghalaya (44%).



Overall, nearly 141 crore doses of Covid-19 vaccines have been administered in India. Of these, 83.58 crore are first doses and 58.38 crore second doses.

Senior health administrators, in a press briefing, also said that in 19 states and UTs, the coverage of the first dose is 90% or more. In the wake of an impending Covid wave, fuelled by Omicron, the Centre has been urging states to ramp up vaccination on a war footing.

In a review meeting with states on health system preparedness on Thursday, Union Health Secretary Rajesh Bhushan had asked states to ensure 100% coverage of left out first and second dose eligible beneficiaries in an accelerated manner, with special focus on districts where first and second dose coverage is less than the national average.

States were also instructed to strengthen door-to-door vaccination campaigns, especially in places where vaccination coverage is below the national average. Importantly, there was a specific message for states going in for elections in the near future to exponentially ramp up vaccination, especially in the low coverage districts.

LUDHIANA UPDATE

Deceased in court blast head constable who was dismissed

HARPREET BAJWA @Chandigarh

THE person killed in the blast at the Ludhiana district court and suspected to be carrying the bomb has been identified as a dismissed head constable of Punjab Police, who might have had links with Pakistan-based terror groups.

Police sources said the deceased has been identified as Gagandeep Singh. He was dismissed from service after being arrested under the NDPS Act on August 11, 2019 in Mohali by the special task force on drugs. He was posted at Sadar Police Station in Khanna. He was sentenced to two years in jail. He was released in September this year.

"He was identified on the basis of a SIM card tracked in a wireless dongle. Also, the family of the deceased identified and confirmed that the body was of Gagandeep," said a police officer on condition of anonymity. The body had a 'Khanda' (Sikh religious symbol) tattooed on the arm.

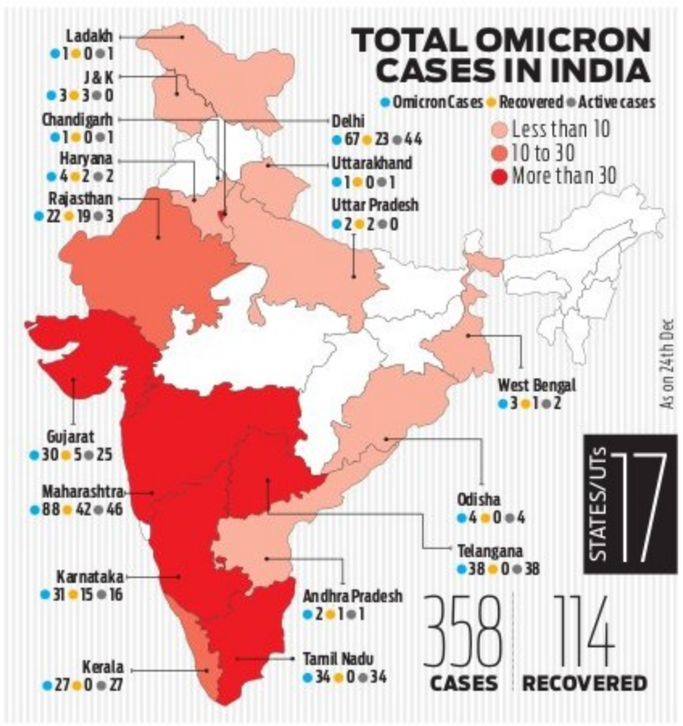
Earlier in the day, Punjab Chief Minister Charanjit Singh Channi said his government has sought the Centre's help in investigating the explosion that rocked the Ludhiana court premises.

Channi said he had spoken to Home Minister Amit Shah and that the Centre has sent probe teams to Punjab. "We need the Centre's help as Punjab does not have the equipment to check the kind of RDX used in the blast."

He said investigations so far have shown that the only person who died in the blast was the one trying to set it up. He added that as of now, no one has taken responsibility for the blast. "Neither have we got any indication of who might be behind the incident," he said, denying intelligence failure.

Earlier in the day, Union Law Minister Kiren Rijiju and Minister of State for Commerce and Industry, Som Prakash visited the blast site.

In an unrelated development, Channi slammed the Shiromani Akali Dal, which has accused his government of doing dirty politics in the registration of a drugs case against former minister Bikram Singh Majithia.



Delhi's daily case numbers touch six-month high at 180

ANKITA UPADHYAY @ New Delhi

COVID numbers in the national capital are rising again. On Friday, 180 fresh cases were recorded — highest in six months. At 0.29%, positivity rate was also the highest since June 15.

According to doctors, increased testing is one of the reasons behind the spike in numbers. "Testing has increased. A large number of travellers returning from UK, Dubai, are getting infected and so are their contacts," said Dr Suresh Kumar, Director of Lok Nayak Hospital — Delhi's dedicated care centre for the new variant Omicron.

A total of 62,697 tests were conducted on Friday. Of these, 57,583 were RT-PCR and 5,114 rapid antigen tests. In all, 67 cases of Omicron have been detected in Delhi so far.

On the brighter side, an aggressive vaccination drive will be able to prevent any drastic situation, docrors add. "Vaccination cannot prevent reinfection but can control the severity of it. Reinfection can happen to anyone but with two doses of vaccines, the symptoms will be mild and asymptomatic," said a senior doctor at ICMR.

Corroborating this, the Delhi government announced it has administered the first dose to all eligible adults. IN all, 148.33 lakh persons have been vaccinated with at least one does, tweeted Chief Minister Arvind Kejriwal. He thanked frontline workers for their support.

'AstraZeneca effective'

New Delhi: A three-dose course of AstraZeneca's Covid-19 vaccine is effective against the newest Covid-19 variant Omicron, the pharmaceutical major has said, citing data from an Oxford University laboratory study. The study on AstraZeneca's vaccine, Vaxzevria, earlier known only as its Covid-19 vaccine, demonstrated that after a three-dose course of the vaccine, neutralising levels against Omicron were broadly similar to those against the Delta variant after two doses. Vaxzevria is available in India under the brand name of Covishield and is produced by the Serum Institute of India. ENS

RAHUL TO PICK MAHA SPEAKER CANDIDATE

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @ Mumbai

NONE of the Congress ministers are willing to take up the post of Speaker of the Maharashtra Assembly. Reason? To be eligible for the post, one has to step down as minister. Election for Speaker in scheduled for December 28.

Taking note of this, Rahul Gandhi has sought a list of Maharashtra ministers. It has been learnt that he will choose one and make him the Speaker candidate. After Nana Patole resigned as Speaker and became state head of Congress last year, the post is vacant. Congress has to nominate the candidate for the Speaker's post. Congress has 10 cabinet ministers and two ministers of state in the Maha Vikas Aghadi coalition.

"No one wants to step down as minister and become the Speaker," said a Congress source requesting anonymity. He added that these ministers were pushing the names of former CM Prithviraj Chavan and MLA Sangram Thopate. "Our Delhi leadership is reluctant to go ahead with these names. Rahul Gandhi has decided to take it up address the issue amicably.

Maharashtra Congress president Patole said it is the high command's prerogative to decide the candidate.

CIVIC POLLS

Win at least 2, target for Bengal BJP

PRANAB MONDAL @ Kolkata

UNHAPPY with its poor show in Kolkata civic polls, the BJP high command has set the party's Bengal unit a target of wining two of the five municipal corporations where elections are to be held on January 22. BJP won just three seats out of 143 in the Kolkata civic polls and came third in terms of vote share.

The assignment of securing victory in upcoming civic polls in Asansol and Siliguri corporations was given to the saffron camp's Bengal leadership in a meeting with BJP's national president JP Nadda and general secretary (organisation) BL Santosh on Thursday. Nadda and Santosh sought explanation why the party finished behind Left Front in terms of vote share.

"Our national leadership is eyeing victory in Asansol and Siliguri. The party has had MPs from both constituencies in the last two Lok Sabha polls. If we fail to win, it will be a loss of face," said a West Bengal BJP leader.

BJP's national vice-president Dilip Ghosh and West Bengal president Sukanta Majumdar attended the meeting in New Delhi. Nadda might visit Kolkata in the first week of January. Other than Asansol and Siliguri, elections will be held in civic bodies of Bidhannagar, Chandernagore and Howrah.

Three of 16 PSUs under railways suffered losses

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @New Delhi

THREE of the 16 major Public Sector Undertaking (PSUs) of the Indian Railways incurred losses in 2019-20. Among them is one of the oldest PSUs — Bharat Wagon & Engineering Co Limited (BWEL) — which is being winded up, a CAG audit report tabled in Parliament said. The other two loss-making PSUs are Dedicated Freight Corridor Corporation of India (DFCCI) and the Kolkata Metro Rail Corporation (KMRC).

While the KMRC incurred a loss of ₹237 crore in 2019-20, the DFCCI's losses amounted to ₹91 crore and that of the BWEL ₹1 crore. The railway PSUs are involved in construction, financing, logistics support and services, consultancy, catering and hospitality, among others. The PSUs engaged in financing registered a rise in profit from ₹2,007 crore in 2017-18 to ₹3,692 crore in 2019-20, while those involved in catering, tourism and hospitality saw their profits rise from ₹219 crore in 2017-18 to ₹529 crore in 2019-20.

Three out of 12 subsidiaries (Fresh and Healthy Enterprises Ltd, IRCON PB Tollway Ltd, IRCON Shivpuri Guna Tollway Ltd), two of seven Special Purpose Vehicles (Bharuch Dahej Railway Co Ltd, Krishnapatnam Railway Co Ltd) and one out of five Joint Ventures (Maharashtra Rail Infrastructure Development Ltd) also incurred losses in 2019-20.

320 babus did not file immovable property return

KUMAR VIKRAM @New Delhi

THE Centre has asked bureaucrats to file details of their immovable properties by January 31. It has said that non-submission of details would invite denial of vigilance clearance for empanelment, deputation and promotion to sensitive posts.

As per a recently-tabled parliamentary committee report, there are nearly 320 officials who have not filed their immovable property details for the year 2020. The Centre introduced the facility of online filing of IPRs (immovable property return) in January 2017. The Department of Personnel and Training (DoPT) issued instructions to all ministries and departments to ensure that IAS officers submit their IPRs online, as per the prescribed timeline. In its latest office memorandum, the DoPT said IPR should be submitted by all Central Secretariat Service officers through the web-based cadre management system.

As per the parliamentary panel report, the All India Services (Conduct) Rules, 1968, provide for a mechanism to take action in case of violation of these rules. "The Committee is deeply concerned to note that 316 IAS officers are yet to file IPR for the year 2020. The committee recommends DoPT to furnish details of disciplinary action taken by the Central government or state government concerned against each of these 316 officers under appropriate rules," said the panel's report.

PARTIAL LIFTING OF AFPSA

Special home ministry aircraft sent for Assam CM and Naga leaders

THE North-east state has seen massive protests against the law that empowers Army and paramilitary personnel to kill, arrest and search premises merely on suspicion and they are protected against any legal prosecution.

On December 20, the Nagaland Assembly passed a resolution demanding that the "government of India repeal the AFSPA from the Northeast and specially from Nagaland so as to strengthen the ongoing efforts to find a peaceful settlement to the Naga political issue."

At present, the Assam Rifles is majorly responsible for maintaining law and order in the Northeast and it also guards the Indo-Myanmar border with the Army. The Assam Rifles is the only paramilitary force with a dual control structure. While its administrative control lies the Union ministry of home affairs, its operational control is with the Army.

MHA officials told this newspaper that both the Assam Rifles and the CRPF, which has about 35 battalions in the Northeast, including 18 in Assam and two in Nagaland, have conveyed to the government they are in favour of a status quo on the AFSPA. "All central police forces were asked to convey their stand on the AFSPA and they have all said they do not want any changes in the deployment and want a status quo," said a senior official of the home ministry.

A special MHA plane was sent from the national capital to fetch the Assam CM and the Nagaland leaders for the meeting with Shah. Currently, the AFSPA is applicable in Tirap, Changlang and Longding districts and two police stations of Namsai district in Arunachal Pradesh, and the entire Assam, Nagaland and Manipur, except Imphal municipal areas.

EC to review UP Covid status next week

CEC-led panel to spend three days from Dec 28 to assess situation

VINEET UPADHYAY @ Dehradun

Political PULSE

A day after Allahabad HC suggested the polls in UP be postponed, Chief Election Commissioner Sushil Chandra said an appropriate decision would be taken after reviewing the situation during his next week's visit to the state.

Chandra, election commissioners Rajiv Kumar and Anup Chandra Pandey, along with other senior EC officers, will review the preparations for the assembly elections in meetings with state officers on December 28, 29 and 30.

"Next week we are visiting Uttar Pradesh and will review the situation. Then, we will arrive at an appropriate decision regarding the assembly elections," Chandra told the media in Dehradun on Friday.

On Thursday, the HC had taken a leaf from PM Modi's message to remark that 'Jaan hai toh Jahaan hai (if there is life, we have the world)'. If rallies are not stopped, it asserted, the results will be worse than the second wave.

The EC team will also meet Uttar Pradesh chief secretary, DGP and other top state government officers as well. Along with officials of the enforcement agencies, the Commission will meet representatives of the various political parties. It will also review the revised voter lists, organisation of voter's awareness campaign, posting of officers, drive against illegal arms and other poll-related matters.

During its visit, the Commission will also review the law and order situation and the requirement of central para-military forces for conducting free and fair polls and also gather inputs on sensitive and very sensitive booths.

Uttar Pradesh is likely to see election in six-seven phases given that it has 403 segments as well as the pandemic situation, said sources.

As for Uttarakhand, Chandra said that the state poll panel will ensure all-women polling booths and special booths for 'Divayangs'. "For all those who are above 80 years of age and are unable to reach the polling station, the Election Commission will reach their doorstep for vote" he said, adding that the polling time will be from 8am to 6pm instead of the usual 5 pm earlier. Inputs from Namita Bajpai in Lucknow

Truce in U'khand: Rawat to lead campaign, CM face to be decided later

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi/Dehradun

IT'S truce in Uttarakhand Congress for now. Veteran Harish Rawat will lead the party's campaign while a decision on the CM will be taken after elections by the elected legislators.

Rawat informed this to the media after a meeting held by Rahul Gandhi to sort out the rift in the state unit ahead of elections. Apart from Rawat, Uttarakhand Congress chief Ganesh Godiyal, AICC incharge Devender Yadav, Congress Legislature Party leader Pritam Singh, former state unit chief Kishore Upadhyay, Rajya Sabha MP Pradeep Tamta and Yashpal Arya were present.

The leaders also met Rahul separately and later General Secretary (Organisation) KC Venugopal met and told them that everyone should work as a team to ensure party's victory. Rahul is said to have expressed unhappiness over Rawat's tweet and asserted that views should be shared at party forums.

Rawat had created a stir with his tweet two days ago saying he felt like quitting for lack of support from high command. There has been a growing difference between Rawat and Yadav over leadership issue.

After the meeting, Rawat said as chairman of the campaign committee, he would expect cooperation from everyone. "Life for me is 'kadam kadam badhaye ja, Congress ke geet gaye ja'," he said. Godiyal said the former CM would be given a free hand and everyone should provide all support to him.

Congress sources said the central leadership may also appoint an 'observer' to keep factionalism in the state in check. Many names including Rajasthan CM Ashok Gehlot are said to be in consideration.

Party sources said the high command could not have afforded to alienate Rawat at this juncture. "There is no other leader who can get Congress in power," said a party insider.

In Punjab, most farmer unions favour front of their own to contest elections

HARPREET BAJWA @ Chandigarh

FARMER unions of Punjab are likely to form their own common forum or front and contest the Assembly elections in the state.

Sources said that for the last few days, the 32 Punjab farmer unions had been holding meetings regularly to reach a consensus on wether to fight elections. The other matter under consideration was whether to form their own party or support some other party.

"Out of the 32 farmer unions, around 23-24 are of the view that they should fight polls. Around seven decided not to and a few others are yet to decide. The unions yet to decide have been told by others which are part of the Samyukta Kisan Morcha to take a call by Saturday," said a senior farmer leader.

He also claimed that unions which are likely to form a joint front to contest elections are likely to contest the polls in alliance with AAP. It has been learnt that around 13 unions favour the party led by Arvind Kejriwal. "During the year-long agitation, the AAP government supported the farmers. The farmer unions have a soft corner for the party."

The farmer unions not to fight elections include Kisan Sangharsh Committee, Kirti Kisan Union, BKU Krantikari, Doaba Sangharsh Committee, Krantikari Kisan Union, Jai Kisan Andolan and BKU Sidhupur. They have reportedly urged others not to use the banner of SKM for this venture.

Scuffle at Congress office in Dehradun

DEHRADUN: Uttarakhand's Congress Committee general secretary Rajendra Shah was on Friday assaulted at the party office by a party worker who accused him of being abusive towards Harish Rawat. Senior party leaders present at the party office, however, rushed to Shah's rescue and took him aside. Some party workers also shouted slogans against Shah inside his chamber. They alleged that some leaders were trying to tarnish Rawat's image.

Goa MLA quits 'communal' Trinamool in 3 months

MUMBAI: Accusing the Trinamool Congress of trying to create a Hindu-Christian divide ahead of Goa polls, former Maharashtrawadi Gomantak Party MLA Lavoo Mamlatdar resigned from TMC nearly three months after joining it. Mamlatdar called the party "worse than the BJP". Referring to the TMC-MGP pre-poll alliance, Mamlatdar said, they want Christian votes to go to the TMC and Hindu votes to the MGP. "The TMC is a communal party," he added.

Modi worried about cows only before polls: Congress

LUCKNOW: Prime Minister Narendra Modi has begun worrying about cows and other livestock (govardhan and pashudhan) ahead of the assembly elections while UP Chief Minister Yogi Adityanath kept silent on their plight in cowsheds in the state, PCC chief jay Kumar Lalu alleged on Friday. "In the past four-and-half years, the Adityanath government and the Modi government have done nothing to stop the atrocities committed on cows in 'gaushalas'," he claimed.

From next academic year, Gujarat schools will teach Vedic maths

AHMEDABAD: A day after the birth anniversary of mathematician Srinivasa Ramanujan, the Gujarat government on Thursday passed a resolution announcing that Vedic mathematics will be introduced in schools in the next academic year.

It will be taught from classes 6 to 10 in all the schools in the state as a compulsory subject.

The announcement noted that decision will be implemented in phases, starting with classes 6, 7 and 9, where it will be introduced in the 2022-23 academic session, and then in classes 8 and 10, where it will be taught from 2023-24.

Textbooks will be prepared by the Gujarat Council of Educational Research and Training for classes 6 to 8, and by the state Secondary and Higher Secondary Education Board for classes 9 and 10. ENS

SCENT OF MONEY LEADS I-T TO ₹150CR CASH IN KANPUR

NAMITA BAJPAI @ Lucknow

WADS of currency worth ₹150 crore were confiscated so far during Income Tax raids at the premises of Kanpur businessman Piyush Jain on Friday.

The I-T raids, which commenced on Thursday, are still underway at various premises including the house, office, factory, cold store, and petrol pump of Jain in Kanpur, Kannauj, Mumbai, and Gujarat.

The raids were initially conducted by GST officials on the charge of tax evasion but later drew in I-T sleuths also as more details about the unaccounted wealth amassed by the trader started surfacing.

Jain, a perfume trader and the manufacturer of pan masala, is believed to be close to Samajwadi Party chief Akhilesh Yadav. Jain had manufactured a perfume launched by Akhilesh a couple of months back.

Visuals of Jain's wealth and the raids underway showed note-counting machines scattered on the floor, surrounded by wads of cash bundled in plastic and tape.

Piyush Jain, basically belongs to Chhipatti in Kannauj where he has a residence, a perfume factory, cold store and a petrol pump.

UP BJP spokesperson Rakesh Tripathi accused the SP of allegedly getting "help from corrupt people and goons". But, SP leader Anurag Bhadouria tweeted that Jain was affiliated to the BJP and that the SP had nothing to do with this friend of the BJP, nor his perfume.

Four dead, 15 injured in boiler blast in Vadodara

DILIP SINGH KSHATRIYA @ Ahmedabad

FOUR people died while 15 others were injured in a boiler blast that took place at a chemical factory in Gujarat's Vadodara district on Friday.

The blast occurred in the morning hours at Canton Laboratory in the Makarpura Gujarat Industrial Development Corporation area.

As soon as the incident was reported, the fire brigade team rushed to the spot and worked to douse the blaze. A 65-year-old man, a teenager and a 30-year-old woman were among the four killed in the blast, police said.

Police Commissioner Shamsher Singh said the investigation was handed over to an ACP-level officer.

As per a report, the main company had built a colony for their workers in the premises of the Canton Laboratory. The boiler that exploded was close to the colony.

The blast was so intense that eye-witnesses said that the walls of the nearby units were shaken. Window panes of buildings lay shattered for over a kilometre in the area.

According to locals, a railway track is close to the company while the blast took place just a few minutes after the train passed. If the train had been one minute late, they claimed, it would have been a disaster.

City's architectural gems come alive in new book

Newly-released 'Lucknow: Ode To A City' authored by DR P C Sarkar is an answer to curious queries about the city of nawabs by going down the bylanes of its prosperous history. The book was launched recently at a function organised by the non-profit Lucknow Expressions Society. Dr Sarkar, a PhD in organic chemistry and working as principal scientist with the Indian Council of Agricultural Research (ICAR), is an authority on the history of Awadh. During the book launch, Dr Sarkar said, "The book is more of a tribute to the lost heritage of Lucknow, its palaces, architectural marvels which no longer exist. It is about the people, who had contributed to uniqueness of Nawabi and colonial Lucknow." The book was launched at a function organised at the Kaifi Azmi Academy.

Christmas festivities pervade Lucknow

Lucknow is all decked up for Christmas to soak braving the December chill. Churches are all wearing a festive look. While the Christian community will soak in the spirit of Yuletide like any other year, commoners too look forward to renew the spirit with lesser Covid curbs this time around. However, a new surge in Covid cases and Omicron fears may hold revellers back. Night curfew will be clamped from Saturday night and authorities have advised against lowering the guard. Celebrations at public places have been called off to avoid mass gatherings. Besides, some churches have restricted midnight mass.

Social media feat for Uttar Pradesh Police

Having scored over two million followers on Twitter, the Uttar Pradesh police is quite in pace with social media revolution making it the second most followed handle in the country after the Mumbai police. It took off with uploading video bytes of district Superintendents of Police/Inspector Generals and Additional Director General zones on social media and graduated to a level of having uploaded 20,000 video bytes since January 1, 2020. In its Twitter journey in the last five years, Uttar Pradesh Police handle has racked up 498 million impressions, 1.59 million retweets and 5.9 million likes, adding 1.7 million new followers.

Health, social schemes top priority

Amid Omicron worry, economists seek enough outlay for welfare schemes in FY23 Budget

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

ECONOMISTS want Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman to continue to extend support to the health sector in the upcoming budget, given the fresh rise of cases due to Omicron and also to keep on extending spending on social and welfare schemes.

"There were many suggestions but the general consensus was to keep the purse strings open for the healthcare sector and the social welfare schemes as the pandemic is far from over, with new cases going up globally and with forecast for the third wave," a source from finance ministry told TNIE.

FM holds pre-Budget consultation

- Ahead of Budget, finance minister holds consultations with multiple stakeholders
- Experts feel the 3rd wave of Covid may peak by February
- A large chunk of population remains unvaccinated

Health experts feel that the third wave of Covid-19 in India may peak by February, 2022, while the government is continuing with its vaccination drive, still a large chunk of population remains without vaccine, which may put further strain on the healthcare sector. The economists suggested that apart from increasing infrastructure spending, government should keep enough provision for expenditure on social welfare schemes like food subsidy, MNREGA for at least this year. "They supported the focus of the government on increased outlay for infrastructure sector as it will help economy to grow. But at the same time general consensus was that this will be too premature to remove support for the social sector including MNREGA and food subsidy," the source said.

This week, the finance minister holds consultations with multiple stakeholders including business chambers, bankers, representatives from agriculture sector, and exporters among others. "Infrastructure sector with a multiplier impact on rest of the economy requires interventions especially to improve and diversify sources of financing. In this context, it is suggested that government should consider developing the municipal bond market so that urban local bodies can raise funds for investing in infrastructure," CII president TV Narendran said.

RECORD $940 BN BUDGET TO HELP RECOVERY

Japan's cabinet approved on Friday an annual budget of $940 billion that is a record for a tenth straight year, putting priority on the response to battling Covid-19 and the prime minister's aim of growth and wealth distribution. The 107.6 trillion yen ($941.55 billion) budget for fiscal year 2022-23, which starts in April, is Japan's biggest-ever initial spending plan, underlining its priority on reviving the pandemic-hit economy over restoring long-term fiscal health. The first annual budget under Kishida comes days after parliament approved 36 trillion yen of record extra stimulus spending for this fiscal year to aid the recovery from Covod-19. Bigger spending meant fiscal discipline was loosening among Japanese policymakers who are counting on the Bank of Japan's ultra-loose monetary policy to keep borrowing costs low. The budget includes 5 trillion yen set aside to cover emergency costs of Covid-19, a record defence outlay of 5.37 trillion yen, the largest-ever welfare cost of 36.3 trn yen and 24.3 trn yen for debt servicing.

THAILAND

CENTRAL BANK TO TEST DIGITAL CURRENCY IN LATE 2022

Thailand's central bank said on Friday it expects to test its retail central bank digital currency (CBDC) for the public in late 2022, later than planned, as an alternative payment option. The pilot project, previously planned for the second quarter of 2022, will evaluate the use of the CBDC in cash-like activities within a limited scale, said deputy central bank director Kasidit Tansanguan. The project will involve transactions such as deposits, withdrawals and fund transfers by financial institutions and around 10,000 users. After discussions with relevant parties and careful consideration, Thailand will proceed slowly, Kasidit said. The retail CBDC is not to compete with cryptocurrency or stable coins but aimed at reducing financial costs, he added. A retail CBDC is a digital form of money issued by a central bank comparable to physical banknotes. It can be used in financial transactions both online and offline. The BOT, however, has said it does not support use of digital assets, such as bitcoin and ether, as payment for goods and services due to risks.

SINGAPORE

$60-BN SWAP FACILITY WITH FED TO EXPIRE ON DEC 31

Singapore central bank said on Friday its $60 billion swap arrangement with the US Federal Reserve will expire on December 31, as US dollar funding conditions in Singapore and the region have normalised and continue to be stable. The facility launched in March 2020 provided $24.6 billion to local, regional and international banks in the midst of the Covod-19 crisis, the Monetary Authority of Singapore (MAS) said. "MAS continues to remain vigilant to USD funding conditions in Singapore and will be prepared to take action in the event of severe strains in the USD funding market," it said. The Fed had established temporary swap arrangements with nine central banks last year to lessen strains in USD funding markets as the Covod-19 pandemic unfolded. Due to heightened uncertainty, USD funding conditions had tightened globally at the time arising from increased demand for USD by financial institutions and corporates. Since its inception, the facility provided a total of $24.6 bn through 91 transactions to a broad mix of local, regional and international banks. This helped to intermediate cross-border USD funding, for use in Singapore and the region, in the midst of the crisis.

DoT asks telcos to maintain call, internet usage data for 2 years

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

CITING security reasons, the Department of Telecom (DoT) on Friday asked telecom operators and internet service providers (ISPs) to maintain call data or internet usage records for two years, instead of one year.

The amendments in the licences were issued on December 21 and extended to other forms of telecom permits on December 22. "The licensee shall maintain all commercial records/call detail record/exchange detail record/IP detail record with record to the communications exchanged on the network. Such records shall be archived for at least two years for scrutiny by the licensor for security reasons...," reads the circular of the DoT.

Earlier, the rules mandated the archive call data and internet usage records for at least one year.

The amendment mandates these service providers maintain internet data records of subscribers including login and logout details for services provided, such as internet access, e-mail, internet telephony services like calls made from mobile applications or Wi-Fi calling for at least two years.

The telecom companies may destroy the data stored thereafter if there is no direction from the DoT, reads the circular. The amendment is necessary in public interest or in the interest of the security of the state or for the proper conduct of telegraphs.

GMR partners Angkasa Pura II to develop Medan Airport

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

AIRPORT and infrastructure major GMR Group has signed shareholders agreement with Indonesia's Angkasa Pura II for the development of Medan Airport.

"GMR Airports Netherlands BV, a step down subsidiary of GMR Airports Limited (GAL), on December 23, 2021, signed the shareholders' agreement and share subscription agreement with Angkasa Pura II (AP II) for the development and operation of Kualanamu International Airport (Project) in Medan, Indonesia. The letter of award for the project was received on 23rd November 2021," said GMR in a regulatory filing. With this agreement, GMR enters into 49:51 partnership with AP II, the state owned enterprise and the bidding authority for the Kualanamu International Airport.

The project scope includes operation, development and expansion of the airport over a period of 25 years. Kualanamu International Airport handled more than 10 million passengers in 2018. Srinivas Bommidala, Chairman, Energy and International Airports, GMR Group, said, "GMR's entry into the Indonesian aviation sector is a significant step in support of the Indian government's policy to 'look east'. With our global aviation expertise, we aspire to transform Kualanamu International Airport into a western international hub of Indonesia and contribute to the overall infrastructure development of the country."

Back in home, GMR has received NCLT nod for the restructuring plan involving the demerger of the non-airport business.

Investors bet big on start-ups; 33 firms turn unicorn in a year

UMA KANNAN @ Bengaluru

OVER the past few months, a number of start-ups have received huge funding from various investors and their valuations have also gone up significantly. According to Hurun Global Unicorn Index 2021, India currently has a total of 54 unicorns, of which 33 start-ups have joined the unicorn club in 2021 alone.

The start-up ecosystem in the country is flourishing, and many firms are using technology to disrupt the market.

"Many start-ups are also raising late-stage rounds. India is a part of the start-up revolution today and this trend is here to stay. With this growing ecosystem, we are also seeing more investors turning to start-up investing and choosing it as an asset class, bringing more dry money to the ecosystem and hence helping many start-ups with capital, suggestions and resources they need to grow," Ankur Mittal, Co- Founder, Inflection Point Ventures (IPV), told TNIE.

One of the largest angel investment platforms, IPV has invested over ₹160 crore in more than 50 start-ups this year, and has exited from 15 firms. IPV is planning to invest in over 60 start-ups in 2022. He said that investing in start-ups is a highly growing asset class. Also, as other asset classes like gold, real estate and FDs/RDs have started giving lesser returns, more people are willing to explore start-up investing.

"At IPV, we have seen our member base growing from 540 members in 2019 to 6,000 members today. It is important to note that this is the only asset class which can give exponential returns to its investors," Mittal said. Next year is expected to witness growth in terms of investment amount as well as funded start-ups.

DATA PATTERNS LISTS AT 48% PREMIUM

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

SHARES of defence and aerospace electronics solutions provider Data Patterns India made a stellar debut on the bourses as the stock opened with a massive 47.69% gains on Friday following strong IPO subscription. The stock started off trade at ₹864, against issue price of ₹585, on the BSE, while the opening price on the National Stock Exchange was ₹856.

However, it saw profit booking and ended its maiden session on the BSE at ₹755, up 29% over its issue price. The strong listing is no surprise as Data Pattern's IPO was subscribed 120 times and almost all the brokerages gave in a 'subscribe' rating.

Santosh Meena, Head of Research, Swastika Investmart, said that in the long run, the stock will be a wealth generator in the next 3-5 years, while short-term investors should keep a stop loss of ₹790 on a closing basis. The company can grow rapidly and exponentially by taking advantage of the government's "Make in India" initiative in the near future, added Meena.

According to ICICI Securities, Data Patterns is one of fastest growing players in the defence & electronics space with proven in-house design and development capabilities. It also has a strong orderbook, which grew at 40% compounded annual growth rate over FY18-1HFY22. The company's orderbook stood at ₹581.3 crore as of September 2021.

The strong performance of Data Patterns came after a series of dismal openings for IPOs on the stock exchanges. IPOs of Rakesh Jhunjhunwala-backed Metro Brands and Star Health and Allied Insurance, RaitGain and Shriram Properties, had a forgettable debut on the exchanges.

According to the data compiled by Prime Database, 63 companies have floated initial share sale this year, raising ₹1.19 lakh cr from investors.

Virus fear grips market; pre-Christmas rally ends

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Mumbai

MARKETS snapped a three-day winning streak to close lower on Friday. The Nifty ended down two-fifths of a percent at 17003.75 and the Sensex closed down 0.33% at 57,124.31. Both indices ended significantly lower from their intra-day highs. The Nifty fell 152 points and the Sensex dropped 500 points from the day's peaks amid concerns of rising Omicron cases ahead of the Christmas holiday.

IT led the gains on the Nifty with HCL Technologies, Tech Mahindra and Wipro closing between half and three percent higher. Grasim Industries, NTPC and Eicher Motors were the top losers down from 1.7-3%.

FIIs have remained net sellers of Indian shares worth ₹17825 crore so far this month. However, they remain cumulatively bullish on Nifty and Bank Nifty futures contracts, being buyers of a net 50717 contracts. "They've been sellers in cash but have retained a bullish stance on index futures, making a reading of their stance tricky," said Rohit Srivastava, mentor, IndiaCharts.

Analysts believe the index which is down almost 9% from its record high of 18604 of Oct 19 needs to close above 17250 for it to test higher levels. Sunil Pachisia, VP, Pratibhuti Viniyog, feels the market could re-test the Oct record high if it sustains at current levels amid rising concerns "surrounding" the pandemic.

12.19 lakh subscribers join ESIC scheme in October, says govt data

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

AROUND 12.19 lakh new subscribers have joined the ESIC-run social security scheme in October this year as against 13.57 lakh in September, government data revealed on Friday.

According to data released by the National Statistical Office (NSO), during September, 2017- October, 2021; 5,82,56,595 new subscribers joined the ESIC scheme.

During the same period, 4,79,72,153 new subscribers joined the EPF scheme and 30,23,250 new subscribers joined and contributed in the National Pension Scheme (NPS), as per the 'Payroll Reporting in India: An Employment Perspective - October, 2021' report.

The report is based on the number of subscribers who have subscribed under three major schemes — Employees' Provident Fund (EPF) Scheme, Employees' State Insurance (ESI) Scheme and National Pension Scheme (NPS).

The latest official data also showed that the gross new enrolments with Employees' State Insurance Corporation (ESIC) were 10.78 lakh in April, 8.91 lakh in May, 10.68 lakh in June, 13.40 lakh in July this year.

Looking at the yearly comparison, the gross enrolments of new subscribers with ESIC were 1.15 crore in 2020-21, compared to 1.51 crore in 2019-20 and 1.49 crore in 2018-19.

The report shows that net new enrolments with retirement fund body EPFO stood at 12.73 lakh in October, down from 13.97 lakh in September 2021.

The Employees' Provident Fund (EPF) is a mandatory savings scheme under the Employees' Provident Funds and Miscellaneous Provisions Act, 1952, while the ESI Scheme for India is an integrated social security scheme tailored to provide socio-economic protection to the workers in the organised sector and their dependents, in contingencies, such as sickness, maternity and death or disablement due to an employment injury or occupational hazard.

Enrolment falls in 2021

Looking at the yearly comparison, the gross enrolments of new subscribers with ESIC were 1.15 crore in 2020-21, compared to 1.51 crore in 2019-20 and 1.49 crore in 2018-19

NEW LEADERSHIP

Paytm consolidates offline payments with lending biz

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Bengaluru

ONE97 Communications-owned Paytm has consolidated its offline payments business with lending, and has elevated Bhavesh Gupta, CEO, Paytm Lending, to take on the leadership for the offline payments vertical in addition to his existing responsibilities.

The company also said it is planning to hire over 30 senior leaders for product, technology and business roles.

This consolidation move is done with an aim to increase penetration of credit to its 23 million merchants. Paytm recently promoted over 25 employees to Senior Vice President and Vice President positions, taking the senior management team count to over 150.

Bhavesh has led the company's lending vertical, which has reached over $1 billion of annualised run rate of disbursals through the company's platform. Before joining Paytm, Bhavesh had over 22 years of experience in the financial sector with major banks like IDFC Bank, ICICI Bank.

Paytm spokesperson said, "We are excited about the accelerated growth of credit access to merchants, which has led to the consolidation of our offline payments and credit businesses under Bhavesh's leadership."

The company aims to grow its leadership in the offline payments space and propel the growth of credit to merchant partners with this consolidation.

Top-level exits

Paytm on Friday confirmed the exit of Renu Satti, Chief Operating Officer, Offline Payments. It said, "After over a decade of association with Paytm, Renu Satti has expressed her desire to take a career break. Paytm is thankful for her years of expertise, dedication and contribution in the growth of Paytm."

Mphasis partners with UK firm to set up JV

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

IT company Mphasis has signed a business venture agreement with Ardonagh, the UK's largest independent insurance intermediary, to set up a joint entity — Mrald Limited, a company incorporated and registered in England and Wales.

Mphasis has acquired 51% in Mrald, and it will have both operating control and full economic interest, Mphasis said in a filing.

This project entailed digital transformation, data, automation and managing back-office operations. Mrald's inaugural service is Application Development and Maintenance (ADM) functions, with the aim to expand in two areas - Insurance operations and technology capabilities; and new clients across the Ardonagh and third party clients in the insurance intermediate market.

"Having successfully executed at least half a dozen similar transformational partnerships in this industry, we are confident of building a service model for the future andensuring a 'client-first' approach," said Nitin Rakesh, CEO and MD, Mphasis.

Adani Transmission bags two renewable power evacuation projects in TN, Guj

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

ADANI Transmission Ltd (ATL) on Friday informed that it has received the letter of intent (LoI) for the acquisition of a renewable energy evacuation system under Khavda-Bhuj Transmission Ltd, worth ₹1200 crore. The company also bagged the acquisition of Karur Transmission Ltd in Tamilnadu, worth ₹200 crore.

"We are pleased to be associated with the maiden evacuation system associated with one of the largest hubs of renewable energy being established at Khavda, Gujarat. This project will be the first to be implemented among the slew of transmission projects planned by the government of India for evacuation of renewable energy from the region," said Anil Sardana, MD and CEO, Adani Transmission Ltd.

ATL will build, own, operate and maintain the transmission project in Tamil Nadu and Gujarat for a period of 35 years.

Sardana said the project at Karur Transmission will be ATL's first-ever ISTS project in Tamil Nadu.

The company informed that it had won both projects through the tariff-based competitive bidding (TBCB) process.

ATL's execution of the project will help evacuate renewable energy from the Karur Tiruppur region and the estimated capex will be more than ₹200 crore.

With an estimated capex of more than ₹1,200 crore, ATL's execution of the project will help evacuate about 3 GW of renewable energy from Khavda, Gujarat.

IN THE MATTER OF:

An Application for approval of Truing up of FY-21, Aggregate Revenue Requirement (ARR) & Expected Revenue from Charges (ERC) for Wire and Supply Business for FY-23 to FY-25 and Retail Supply Tariff for FY-23 of Bangalore Electricity Supply Company Limited (BESCOM), Bengaluru 560 001 under Section 27 of the Karnataka Electricity Reform Act, 1999 and under Section 61 & 62 of Electricity Act, 2003, read with relevant KERC (Tariff) Regulations including KERC (Terms and Conditions for Determination of Tariff for Distribution and Retail sale of electricity) Regulations 2006 and MYT Order No. D/01/6, Dated 31.05.2006.

Bangalore Electricity Supply Company Limited (BESCOM),
K R Circle, Bengaluru-560 001 ..... PETITIONER

N O T I C E

Bangalore Electricity Supply Company (BESCOM), has filed a Petition before the Hon'ble Commission for Truing up of FY-21, Aggregate Revenue Requirement (ARR) & Expected Revenue from Charges (ERC) for Wire and Supply Business for FY-23 to FY-25 and Retail Supply Tariff for FY-23 under Section 27 of the Karnataka Electricity Reform Act, 1999 and under Section 61 & 62 of Electricity Act, 2003, read with relevant KERC (Tariff) Regulations including KERC (Terms and Conditions for Determination of Tariff for Distribution and Retail sale of electricity) Regulations 2006 and MYT Order No. D/01/6, Dated 31.05.2006. The details of ERC filing are as under

1. NEED FOR REVISION:

A revenue deficit arises due to mismatch between Aggregate Revenue Requirement (ARR) and Revenue Receipts from existing tariff of BESCOM as detailed below:

Rs. in Crore

Year	Revenue Receipts	Revenue Requirement	Revenue Deficit
2020-21*	19680.84	21866.14	2185.29
2022-23	23418.25	28027.81	4609.57

* Proposed for True up  Modified estimate with FY-21 deficit carried forward

Based on the above ARR, the estimated Average Cost of Supply of power is more than the Average Rate of Realization as detailed below:

Year	Average Cost of Supply (Rs/unit)	Average Rate of Realization (Rs/unit)	Deficit (Rs./Unit)
2022-23	9.62	8.04	1.58

Hence, the revision in tariff is required. BESCOM plans to recover Rs. 4609.57 Crs. in FY-23 from the proposed revision of Tariff.

2. PROPOSED TARIFF INCREASE: Estimated deficit of FY-22 will be taken up at the time of Truing up of FY-22. The deficit upto FY-21 and estimated deficit for FY-23 of Rs. 4609.57 Crs is proposed to be recovered by Tariff increase. The tariffs applicable to various categories of consumers are as shown in Annexure-1.
3. Ready Reckoner showing the monthly bill as per existing tariff and bill as per the proposed tariff for different categories of consumers is shown as Annexure-2. Application filed before Commission is also available at all O&M Circle Offices (Offices of the Superintending Engineers, (Ele), C, O&M, Bengaluru (North), Bengaluru (South), Bengaluru (East), Bengaluru (West), Bengaluru (Rural), Tumakuru, Kolar, Davanagere and Ramanagara) and BESCOM, Corporate Office, K.R.Circle, Bengaluru – 560 001.
4. Pursuant to Regulation-5 of KERC (Tariff) Regulations 2000, it is hereby notified that the persons who are interested in filing their objections to the above petition may file the same with the Receiving Officer, O/o the Secretary, Karnataka Electricity Regulatory Commission, No.16, C-1, Millers Tank Bed Area, Vasantha Nagar, Bengaluru – 560 052, along with the documents on which they want to rely upon, in six sets, duly supported by an affidavit within thirty days from the date of first publication of this Tariff Notification and also indicate whether they want to be heard in person. A copy of the objection may be marked to Director (Finance), Second Floor, Belaku Bhavana, Corporate office, BESCOM, K.R.Circle, Bengaluru-560 001 for furnishing replies to the objections.
5. For reference of those who are interested, copies of the petition are available for inspection at all Circle Offices (Offices of the Superintending Engineers (Ele) (C, O&M), Bengaluru (North), Bengaluru (South), Bengaluru (East), Bengaluru (West), Bengaluru (Rural), Tumakuru, Kolar, Davanagere and Ramanagara).

Pele discharged from hospital

Brazilian football great Pele was discharged from hospital Thursday after two weeks of chemotherapy for a colon tumor, announced the Sao Paulo hospital that treated him. The 81-year-old ex-player known as "O Rei" (The King) "is stable and will continue the treatment of the colon tumor that was identified in September of this year," the Hospital said.

India seek to breach fortress Centurion

Eyeing a maiden series win in SA, Kohli & Co's immediate challenge is to get used to the pace and bounce at the venue

VENKATA KRISHNA B @Chennai

SUPERSPORT Park in Centurion isn't an intimidating venue. Apart from the pavilion end that accommodates the dressing room, the grass embankments with few chalets on the side only makes it a beautiful venue for cricket. For South Africa, this is their own Gabbatoir. Since the venue started hosting Tests since 1995, they have lost only twice in 26 matches (the infamous Test against England where both teams forfeited an innings each and a match against Australia). Also, there have only been three drawn games meaning the pitch has consistently produced results. In fact, only three of the last 11 Tests have gone to the last day.

Unlike Brisbane, where teams struggle to get used to the bounce, the Centurion track offers a spongy bounce, coupled with pace as well as seam movement. That's why batters find this a challenging place. Quite literally, these conditions are what you call tailor-made for the hosts, who are known for their hostility through speed and seam movement.

As the visitors begin their quest for a maiden series win in South Africa — the only country where they are without one, they have their task cut out. Their two matches at this venue have resulted in big defeats and conditions remain tilted in favour of the bowlers, seamers to be precise. Though the hosts do not have the batting might of AB de Villiers, Hashim Amla and Faf du Plessis, their bowling unit, led by Kagiso Rabada, is capable of turning on the heat even in the absence of Anrich Nortje. For a team that is not as strong as India on paper, they couldn't have asked for a better venue to start the series. Off the 836 wickets at this venue, only 110 have been picked up by spinners. The pacers have got a wicket every 51.2 balls. And over the last four years in South Africa, there have been only 15 centuries in 18 Tests, as the hosts moved more and more towards pitches that aide their seamers.

Four years ago, India started off on a bright note in Cape Town before their attack lost the plot in the second session. Which is why India know they need to put their best foot forward. All said and done about Centurion, as much as Virat Kohli & Co have progressed in the last four years, their opponents, thanks to the transition period, have been on a downward slide losing five of their last eight home Tests, including three on the trot to England before the pandemic set in. Which is why it is fair to say that if India play to their potential, they are in with a chance of making history on South African soil for the first time.

"We've played in Australia where the pitches are fast and bouncy, but here it can be a bit spongy in the first couple of days, and then it starts to quicken up. When I played last time, each time the wicket was a bit difficult. You had to understand and adjust according to that, so that becomes a big test for both batters and bowlers," India's vice-captain KL Rahul said.

In 2018, despite being in with a chance to win the series, India didn't really pick the right combination in the first two Tests, as they even benched Ajinkya Rahane – their best overseas batter at that point – for Rohit Sharma. This time the story is a lot different with all things again pointing out to India sticking to their five-bowler strategy that has helped them win series in Australia and take 2-1 lead in England. Though the absence of all-rounder Ravindra Jadeja will affect the balance, India are looking at playing R Ashwin and Shardul Thakur at No 7 and 8 followed by Mohammed Shami, Jasprit Bumrah and Mohammed Siraj.

Aparajith, Washington put TN in final

ASHOK VENUGOPAL @Chennai

WITH the depth in its batting, one would have expected Tamil Nadu to put up a professional display and go about its task but they huffed and puffed to a two-wicket win over Saurashtra in the Vijay Hazare Trophy semifinals in Jaipur on Friday.

Tamil Nadu needed seven runs off the final over and tail-enders R Sai Kishore (12 n.o) and R Silambarasan (2 n.o) brought it down to 1 off the last ball off medium-pacer Chirag Jani. Sai Kishore finished off with a boundary. Chasing 310 for a victory Tamil Nadu made 314 for 8 in 50 overs. They will meet Himachal Pradesh in Sunday's final.

"It was a brilliant win where our tail-enders showed maturity and went about the task in a matured manner. The message to Sai Kishore in final over was to take run a ball and then go for a win in the final ball. Luckily things worked," said M Venkataramana, coach of Tamil Nadu.

Put in to bat Saurashtra rode on a swashbuckling century (134) by Sheldon Jackson to post a challenging total. But Jackson's effort was overshadowed by B Aparajith's splendid century (122) and useful contributions from his twin brother Indrajith (50) and Washington Sundar (70). Aparajith innings was sublime with grace written all over it. It was perhaps one of his best innings at the top of the order in white-ball list A cricket.

Mary, Saina in core group

ENS @Chennai

THE sports ministry on Friday announced the second list of athletes included in the core and development groups of the Target Olympic Podium Scheme (TOPS). As many as 50 athletes were picked for the core group while 143 were included in the development group across eight disciplines.

Almost all the usual suspects as PV Sindhu, Deepika Kumari, MC Mary Kom, and Muhammed Anas Yahiya retained their respective places in the core group. Shuttler Saina Nehwal, who couldn't qualify for the Tokyo Games, also managed to keep her place in the core group. A decision in this regard was taken at a meeting of the Mission Olympic Cell (MOC) on Thursday.

Para-athletes stage protest

TANMAY DAS @Bhubaneswar

AS many as eight differently-abled athletes from Kerala staged a protest here at the East Coast Railway Indoor Stadium, the venue for the 4th national para-badminton meet, which began on Friday. The shuttlers claimed they were not allowed to compete. "The PCI didn't allow para shuttlers from Kerala to compete because of the Sports Association for Differently Abled, which had illegally obtained affiliation with the national governing body. The issue also meant that Kerala's para-athletes will not be able to compete in the FISA International Championships scheduled in Dubai," said para-athlete Kishor AM.

GOODBYE BHAJJI

Off-spinner Harbhajan Singh announced his retirement from all forms of the game on Friday. A look at highlights of his career...

LIFT-OFF AGAINST OZ IN 2001

Harbhajan made his debut against Australia in 1998 but it was a good three years before he assumed centrestage. His first fifer came in that famous Test in Kolkata. He followed that with six, seven and eight wickets in the next three innings as he spun the web around the visitors. In all, he claimed 31 wickets.

LEADER OF THE PACK

After Anil Kumble retired & before R Ashwin's emergence, the offie became the leader of India's spin attack. Some of his famous performances included a 16-wicket, series winning-performance in New Zealand in 2010.

IPL KING

One of the few players to have played in all editions of the IPL, Harbhajan finished with exactly 150 wickets in 163 matches, with an overall economy of just 7.07. His peak came between 2009-15 when he took 105 wickets.

South Africa says it is ending efforts to trace contacts of people infected with Covid as it believes most of the population have already been exposed to the virus. This was said by Health Department chief Sandile Buthelezi

"Containment strategies are no longer appropriate, mitigation is the only viable strategy. This is especially true of the newer variants like Omicron," he said. "All contact tracing (will) be stopped immediately," he said

Frontliners fall thick and fast as Omicron rages

Hosp staff absence more than triples in UK, while police, firefighters report burn out

PANDEMIC

BOSTON: Staff absences for Covid-19 tripled this month in London's hospitals, and nearly 10% of the city's firefighters called out sick. In New York, about 2,700 police officers were absent earlier this week — twice the number who are ill on an average day.

The worldwide surge in coronavirus cases driven by the new Omicron variant is the latest blow to hospitals, police departments, supermarkets and other critical operations struggling to maintain a full contingent of front-line workers as the pandemic enters its third year. Governments have taken steps to stem the bleeding across a range of jobs considered essential for society, from truckers and janitors to child care providers and train conductors. But nurses and other workers worry that continued staffing woes will put the public at greater risk and increase burnout and fatigue among their ranks. Seattle Officer Mike Solan, who leads his city's police union, said his department is down about 300 officers from its usual force of 1,350.

Michelle Gonzalez, a nurse at New York's Montefiore Medical Center in the Bronx, said she and her ICU colleagues never truly had a break from Covid-19, and the arrival of Omicron has only reawakened her post-traumatic stress.

Countries, including Spain and the US, have reduced the length of Covid-19 quarantines to ease staffing shortages by letting people return to work sooner after testing positive or being exposed to the virus. The US did similar for health care workers only.

Meanwhile in the US, states such as Massachusetts have called in hundreds of National Guard members to help fill the gaps in hospitals and nursing homes, where they serve meals, transport patients and do other nonclinical work.

In London, the UK's Omicron epicenter, a wave of staff absences is hitting hospitals just as Covid-19 admissions have doubled in three weeks. The latest surge will probably persist until mid-January, officials said.

The operators of US nursing homes, which were crippled by some of the deadliest outbreaks early in the pandemic, are among those pleading for more. While cases in long-term care facilities have not risen sharply, the industry is bracing for Omicron with 15% fewer workers today than when the pandemic began, said Rachel Reeves, a spokesperson for the American Health Care Association.

Nursing homes historically struggle to compete with other health care operators because their pay rates are effectively fixed by the government, she said, so providers hope President Joe Biden's administration can boost Medicaid funding and create staff recruitment and retention programs.

Antarctica's 'doomsday' glacier: How its collapse could trigger global floods
The massive Thwaites glacier in West Antarctica contains enough ice to raise global sea levels by 65cm if it were to completely collapse. And, worryingly, recent research suggests that its long-term stability is doubtful as the glacier haemorrhages more and more ice
ELLSWORTH LAND
THWAITES GLACIER
BYRD SUFACE
MARIE BYRD LAND
AMUNDSEN SEA
UNITED KINGDOM
The Thwaites glacier is slightly smaller than the total size of the UK, approximately the same size as the state of Washington
Not the only to melt
The worry is Thwaites, or the doomsday glacier, might not be the only glacier to go. Were it to empty into the ocean, it could trigger a regional chain reaction and drag other nearby glaciers in with it, which would mean several metres of sea-level rise
Mumbai at risk
A sea level rise of several metres would inundate many of the world's major cities, including Shanghai, New York, Miami, Tokyo and Mumbai. It would also cover huge swathes of land in coastal regions and swallow up low-lying nations like Kiribati, Tuvalu and the Maldives
Melting ice
If Thwaites' ice shelf did collapse, it would spell the beginning of the end for the glacier. Without its ice shelf, Thwaites glacier would discharge all its ice into the ocean over the following decades to centuries. This ice risks melting as ocean temperature are rising due to climate change
Rising ocean temperature
The ice shelf, which is the floating extension of the glacier, is one of several that scientists are watching closely in the Amundsen Sea Basin. Several ice shelves that hold back glaciers are being eroded by rising ocean temperatures

Cascading effect
If the ice shelves retreat, it means there is less holding the West Antarctic glaciers back, allowing them to accelerate and add more to global sea levels. The collapse of Thwaites certainly could trigger a wholesale collapse event
Hope persists
Other researchers suggest the destabilisation of the Thwaites ice shelf and glacier may not lead to the kind of catastrophic outcomes that some fear. Sea ice and chunks of ice that break away from the collapsing ice shelf and glacier might have a similar restraining effect to the intact ice shelf, nipping the chain-reaction in the bud
HUGE CAVITY
In January 2019, NASA discovered an underwater cavity underneath the glacier, with an area two-thirds the size of Manhattan. The cavity formed mostly in the previous three years and is nearly a thousand feet tall, likely speeding up the glacier's decay. It contributes roughly 4% to global sea level rise. Researchers also noted that at the baseline of the glacier, the temperature of the water is already more than two degrees above freezing point

Bethlehem marks gloomy X-mas in Covid's shadow

COVID

BETHLEHEM: The Biblical town of Bethlehem marked its second straight Christmas Eve under the shadow of the coronavirus — with small crowds and gray, gloomy weather dampening celebrations Friday in the traditional birthplace of Jesus.

A ban on nearly all incoming air traffic by Israel -- the main entry point for foreign visitors heading to the West Bank — kept international tourists away for a second consecutive year. The ban is meant to slow the spread of Omicron, which has shaken Christmas celebrations around the world.

Instead, local authorities were counting on the Holy Land's small Christian community to lift spirits. It was a theme seen around the world as revelers, weary from nearly two years of lockdowns, searched for ways to revive customs.

Bethlehem's mayor, Anton Salman, said the town was optimistic that 2021 would be better. Bethlehem planned a return of its traditional marching band parades and street celebrations. "Last year, our festival was virtual, but this year it will be face to face with popular participation," Salman said.

Police erected barricades early Friday as scout bands marched through Manger Square banging drums and holding flags ahead of the expected arrival from Jerusalem of Latin Patriarch Pierbattista Pizzaballa, the top Roman Catholic clergyman in the Holy Land.

US to lift travel ban on southern African nations

WASHINGTON: The US will next week lift the travel ban imposed on several southern African nations when the Omicron variant of Covid was first detected, officials said Friday. Countries around the world restricted travel from southern Africa after the variant was detected in South Africa, which reported Omicron to the WHO on November 24. WHO and the United Nations spoke out against the travel bans, and officials in South Africa said they were being punished for identifying the strain. "The restrictions gave us time to understand Omicron and we know our existing vaccines work against it," the White House said

Google, Lenovo opt out of Las Vegas extravaganza

SAN FRANCISCO: Google, Lenovo and other big name tech firms on Thursday cancelled plans to attend next month's Consumer Electronics Show in Las Vegas, joining an exodus fueled by fear of Covid-19. The US internet giant and the China-based computer colossus became part of a growing list of companies opting not to put employees at risk by staffing events. "After careful consideration we have decided to withhold from having a presence on the show floor of CES 2022," a Google spokesperson said. The Waymo self-driving car unit of Google-parent Alphabet also hit the brakes on going to Las Vegas, saying it would take part virtually

Russia fines Google $98 mn for not moderating content

COVID

MOSCOW: A Moscow court slapped Google with an unprecedented hefty fine of nearly $100 million on Friday as Russia ramps up its pressure on foreign tech giants.

Moscow has piled fines on the world's biggest internet platforms, accusing them of not moderating their content properly and interfering in the country's affairs.

But so far fines on Facebook parent company Meta, Twitter, Google have stretched into the tens of millions of rubles, not billions. However on Friday a Moscow court fine Google a record 7.2 billion rubles, ($98 million), the court's press service said on Telegram, for repeatedly failing to delete illegal content. The content was not specified, but Russia regularly takes legal action for not removing content it labels illegal, such as pornographic material or posts condoning drugs and suicide.

"We'll study the court documents and then decide on next steps," Google's press service told AFP. Interfax news agency said that the massive fine was calculated as a percentage of Google's annual earnings and was the maximum penalty for a repeated violation. Meta – which has a hearing in court later today on the same charges -- has also been threatened with a revenue-based fine. On Thursday, Twitter was handed its latest fine of three million rubles ($40,000) after authorities started throttling services.

In the past few years, the Russian government has used the pretext of protecting minors and fighting extremism to control the Russian segment of the web and began developing a so-called sovereign internet. Ahead of parliamentary elections in September, Russia's media watchdog blocked dozes of websites linked to jailed Kremlin critic Alexei Navalny, whose organisations have been banned in Russia as "extremist".

The regulator also ordered Google and Apple to remove an app dedicated to Navalny's "Smart Voting" campaign which advised supporters who to vote for to unseat Kremlin-aligned politicians. The Silicon Valley giants complied, with sources telling AFP the decisions came after authorities threatened to arrest local staff. Russia's media regulator has also blocked dozens of websites linked to Navalny.

Earlier, during protests in January in support of Navalny, authorities accused platforms including Google's YouTube and Twitter of meddling in Russia's domestic affairs by not deleting posts calling for people to join the rallies.

Tesla deactivates video games in moving cars

WASHINGTON: Electric automaker Tesla will update its vehicle software to prevent drivers from playing video games on the console while the car is in motion, US traffic safety regulators said on Thursday.

"Following the opening of a preliminary evaluation of Tesla's 'Passenger Play,' Tesla informed the agency that it is changing the functionality of this feature," a spokesperson for the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration said in a statement emailed to AFP.

"In a new software update, 'Passenger Play' will now be locked and unusable when the vehicle is in motion."

The agency had announced it had launched an investigation into some 5,80,000 Tesla cars after the automaker's decision to allow drivers to play on the entertainment system's touch screen while the vehicle was moving.

The affected models are the Model 3, S, X and Y.

The option to engage Passenger Play on the main display during driving made drivers susceptible to distraction and raised the risks of an accident, the NHTSA said.

It said earlier that it confirmed the gaming function has been available since December 2020 in many Tesla vehicles, after only being enabled in park mode on earlier autos.

NHTSA undertook the probe following a customer complaint earlier this year. "Why is a manufacturer allowed to create an inherently distracting live video which takes over two-thirds of the screen which the driver relies on for all vehicle information?," said a complaint from Lake Oswego, Oregon.

FOUR-YR-STUDY

Clean air is a myth; microplastics infect troposphere, too

RESEARCH

PARIS: From Mount Everest to the Mariana Trench, microplastics are everywhere – even high in the Earth's troposphere where wind speeds allow them to travel vast distances, a study showed on Tuesday.

Microplastics are tiny fragments – measuring less than 5 millimetres -- that come from packaging, clothing, vehicles and other sources and have been detected on land, in water and in the air.

Scientists from the French national research institute CNRS sampled air 2,877 metres above sea level at the Pic du Midi Observatory in the French Pyrenees, a so-called "clean station" because of the limited influence exerted on it by the local climate and environment. There they tested 10,000 cubic metres of air per week between June and October of 2017 and found all samples contained microplastics.

Using weather data they calculated the trajectories of different air masses preceding each sample and discovered sources as far away as North Africa and North America.

The study's main author Steve Allen of Dalhousie University in Canada told AFP that the particles were able to travel such distances because they were able to reach great altitudes. "Once it hits the troposphere, it's like a superfast highway," he said.

The research also points to microplastic sources in the Mediterranean Sea and the Atlantic Ocean. "The marine source is the most interesting," Allen said. "Plastic leaving the ocean into the air that high – it shows there is no eventual sink for this plastic," he said.

"It's just moving around and around in an indefinite cycle." While the amounts of microplastics in the samples at the Pic du Midi don't pose a health risk, study co-author Deonie Allen notes that the particles are small enough for humans to breathe in. And she says their presence in a zone thought to be protected and far from pollution sources should give pause. "It questions the relationship we have with plastic," she said, adding that the problem is global. Allen said that it also shows that disposing of plastic by shipping it abroad is a flawed strategy. "It's going to come back to you," he said.

MARITIME TRAGEDY

At least 40 killed as ferry catches fire in Bangladesh

800 people were reportedly on board when fire started in engine room

DHAKA

A crowded three-storey ferry carrying around 800 passengers caught fire on the Sugandha River in southern Bangladesh early on Friday, killing at least 40 people and injuring over 150 others, officials said, in the latest maritime tragedy to hit the country criss-crossed by rivers.

The fire broke out around 3.00 am (local time) on Friday in the engine room of the Barguna-bound MV Abhijan-10 launch that started a journey from Dhaka, police and fire service officials said, adding that scores of other passengers were missing.

Officials familiar with the rescue efforts said 40 people were killed in the blaze, including nine being drowned, but some private television channels, quoting officials, reported 41 deaths from the accident in southern Jhalakathi district, 250 kilometres from the capital Dhaka.

Officials said they were carrying out the autopsy of the 30 people at Jhalakathi's main government hospital ahead of handing them over to relatives.

"We have assigned an official team to find out the casualty figure," the deputy commissioner of Barishal district told the private Samoy TV.

The burnt passenger ferry is anchored off the coast of Jhalokati district | AP

"The record suggests 310 listed passengers were travelling in the ferry, but we assume the actual number was much higher," junior minister for shipping Khaled Mahmud Chowdhury told reporters after he visited the accident site.

He said three separate investigations have been launched to find out the background and other details of the predawn accident.

Doctors at the Sher-e-Bangla Medical College Hospital in the neighbouring Barishal district said they were currently treating 70 people while fire service officials said some 50 more were being treated at other health facilities.

Health officials in Dhaka said a six-member expert doctors' team were sent to Barishal to join their colleagues in treating patients with burn wounds.

The Coastguard, fire service and police launched a search campaign covering rivers in three downstream districts as the accident took place at the confluence of three rivers as a huge number of people crowded on the river banks and hospitals to find their relatives.

They wrapped up the rescue operation after sunset due to dense fog and darkness, saying they would restore the operation on Saturday morning.

"Most of the people were burnt to death or died due to breathing problems due to hot smoke as they were trapped inside the vessel. Many passengers jumped into the river but some of them could not swim ashore or be rescued," a fire service official said. PTI

US waives in-person visa interviews for 2022

WASHINGTON

AMID growing concerns of surging Covid-19 cases, the US has announced it will waive the in-person interview requirement for a range of visa applicants during the entire year in 2022, including for H-1B workers and students, many of whom are from India.

The H-1B visa is a non-immigrant visa that allows US companies to employ foreign workers in speciality occupations that require theoretical or technical expertise.

Technology companies depend on it to hire tens of thousands of employees each year from countries like India and China.

The Department of State on Thursday announced that consular officers are now temporarily authorised, through December 31, 2022, to waive in-person interviews for certain individual petition-based non-immigrant work visas and their qualifying derivatives in the following categories: Persons in Specialty Occupations (H-1B visas), Trainee or Special Education Visitors (H-3 visas), Intracompany Transferees (L visas), Individuals with Extraordinary Ability or Achievement (O visas), Athletes, Artists, and Entertainers (P visas), and Participants in International Cultural Exchange Programmes (Q visas).

Additionally, the Secretary of State has extended consular officers' current ability to waive the in-person interview, through December 31, 2022, for the following other categories of non-immigrant visas: Temporary Agricultural and Non-agricultural Workers (H-2 visas), Students (F and M visas), and Student Exchange Visitors (Academic J visas), the press release said.

Embassies and consulates may still require an in-person interview on a case-by-case basis and dependent upon local conditions. Applicants should check embassy and consulate websites for more detailed information, it said.

The state department said, "it recognises the many contributions of international visitors to our communities and campuses and the positive impact of temporary work visa holders on the US economy and is committed to facilitating nonimmigrant travel and reducing visa wait times."

The State Department also said it has extended indefinitely the authorisation to waive the in-person interview for applicants renewing a visa in the same visa class within 48 months of the prior visa's expiration.

The pandemic resulted in profound reductions in the Department's visa processing capacity.

As global travel rebounds, the US is taking these temporary steps to further commitment to safely and efficiently reduce visa wait times while maintaining national security as our priority, it added. PTI

Catholic leader cuts cake with junta chief, sparks uproar

YANGON

MYANMAR'S top Catholic sparked outrage on Friday after photos emerged of him cutting a Christmas cake with the country's junta chief, who has overseen a bloody crackdown on dissent and clashes in Christian-majority areas.

Cardinal Charles Bo met junta chief Min Aung Hlaing on Thursday to hear Christmas carols and "talk about peaceful and prosperous affairs," the state-backed Global New Light of Myanmar newspaper reported. Bo—who was ordained a Cardinal by Pope Francis in 2015—later posted a photo from the meeting on his Twitter account, showing the pair with smiles on their faces as they jointly cut a Christmas cake. One photo published by state media showed them sitting together in front of a Christmas tree, while another showed Min Aung Hlaing handing over a donation of 20 million kyat ($11,200). Myanmar has been in turmoil since the military ousted Aung San Suu Kyi's government in February. Anti-coup militia have sprung up across the country to fight back against the junta, with some of the bloodiest fighting happening in Christian-majority areas.

The US said in October it was "gravely concerned" about reports that security forces had committed human rights violations and destroyed more than 100 homes as well as churches in majority-Christian Chin state. AFP

US officer convicted of manslaughter in shooting of African-American man

WASHINGTON

A former US police officer was found guilty on Thursday of manslaughter after she shot dead a young African-American man, claiming she mistook her gun for her Taser during a traffic stop.

Kim Potter, 49, was convicted of the first and second degree manslaughter of Daunte Wright, a 20-year-old father, in Brooklyn Center, a suburb of Minneapolis, Minnesota, in April. The incident came during the trial of white policeman Derek Chauvin, who had asphyxiated George Floyd, who was Black, in Minneapolis in May 2020 by kneeling on his neck for some nine minutes.

Floyd's death sparked nationwide protests against racism and police brutality.

Potter now faces a maximum of 15 years in prison on the first charge and 10 years on the second, with the sentencing expected to take place in February. She looked down and closed her eyes briefly but otherwise did not react as judge Regina Chu read out the guilty verdicts in court. "Her remorse and her regret for the incident is overwhelming. She's not a danger to the public whatsoever," Potter's defence lawyer Paul Engh said as he asked Chu to release her on bail until sentencing.

But Chu said Potter would remain in custody until the sentencing. Her defence attorneys patted her consolingly on the back as she was handcuffed and led away by law enforcement officials. Wright's family said they were "relieved" there had been "some measure of accountability for the senseless death of their son, brother, father and friend."

"From the unnecessary and overreaching tragic traffic stop to the shooting that took his life, that day will remain a traumatic one for this family and yet another example for America of why we desperately need change in policing," they said.

Wright's mother, Katie Wright, told a press conference that she felt "emotions, every single emotion that you can imagine" as the verdict was read. Outside the court supporters could celebrated, danced and played music after the verdict was announced.

Potter had pleaded not guilty and claimed the shooting was an accident, saying she mistakenly grabbed her firearm instead of her Taser stun gun.

In emotional testimony she had described how what was meant to be a routine traffic stop became "chaotic." "I remember yelling 'Taser Taser Taser.' And nothing happens, then he told me I shot him," Potter said, bursting into tears. AFP

JAPAN CABINET OKs RECORD DEFENCE BUDGET

Japan's government on Friday unveiled its biggest ever full-year budget, including record defence spending to counter intensifying security threats

BIGGEST-EVER SPENDING PLAN

Cabinet ministers approved a draft national budget of a whopping 107.6 trillion yen ($940 billion) for the 2022-23 fiscal year, including 5.4 trillion yen for defence

Both figures have been increasing steadily for a decade as the cost of caring for an ageing population rises and the country seeks to boost its military capability

Prime Minister Fumio Kishida, formerly known as a dove, has quickly adopted more hawkish policies and said Japan should consider acquiring a pre-emptive strike capability in response to China's military buildup and North Korea's growing missile and nuclear capabilities

$870 million
is for development of the F-X fighter jet to replace Japan's aging fleet of F-2 aircraft around 2035. It would be Japan's first domestically developed fighter jet

1.1%
budget increase for the year beginning in April is the 10th consecutive defence spending increase and is in line with Japan's pledge to the United States to strengthen its own defence capabilities to tackle increasingly challenging security issues in the region

$2.55 billion
The budget, which still needs to be approved by parliament, includes a record 291 billion yen ($2.55 billion) for defence research and development, up 38% from the current year

$1.1 billion for purchase of a dozen F-35 stealth fighters from Lockheed Martin Corp, including four with short takeoff and vertical landing capabilities for use on two helicopter carriers being converted into aircraft carriers, key to Japan's joint operations with the United States in the defense of the Indo-Pacific region

US bans import of goods from Xinjiang over concerns of forced labour

WASHINGTON

US President Joe Biden signed a bill into law on Thursday to block imports from China's Xinjiang region unless businesses can prove the items were made without forced labour, the latest in a series of intensifying US penalties against the Asian power for alleged abuses.

The measure had to overcome some initial hesitation from the White House, as well as corporate opposition, to win final passage last week in the Senate, following earlier House passage. Biden also signed a separate bill on Thursday funding research into a cure for Lou Gehrig's disease.

"Today, I signed the bipartisan Uyghur Forced Labor Prevention Act," Biden said on Twitter. "The United States will continue to use every tool at our disposal to ensure supply chains are free from the use of forced labour including from Xinjiang and other parts of China."

The new law is the latest in a series of attempts by the US to get tough with China over its alleged systemic and widespread abuse of ethnic and religious minorities in its western region, especially Xinjiang's predominantly Muslim Uyghurs.

It requires US government agencies to expand their monitoring of the use of forced labour by China's ethnic minorities. Crucially, it creates a presumption that goods coming from Xinjiang are made with forced labour. Businesses will have to prove that forced labour, including by workers transferred from Xinjiang, was not used in manufacturing the product before it will be allowed into the US.

The United States says China is committing genocide in its treatment of the Uyghurs. That includes widespread reports by rights groups and journalists of forced sterilisation and large detention camps where many Uyghurs allegedly are forced to work in factories. China denies any abuses and says the steps it has taken are necessary to combat terrorism.

The US cites raw cotton, gloves, tomato products, silicon and viscose, fishing gear and components in solar energy as among goods alleged to have been produced using forced labour in Xinjiang. PTI

of garments imported into the United States each year include some cotton from Xinjiang

Big firms oppose action

Some big corporations lobbied against import restrictions. Apple, Nike and other companies with production done in China, said it had found no signs of forced labour

More Tiananmen memorials removed

HONG KONG

UNIVERSITIES in Hong Kong are removing memorials to the bloody suppression of the 1989 Chinese pro-democracy movement centered on Beijing's Tiananmen Square.

The Chinese University of Hong Kong early on Friday morning took down the "Goddess of Democracy," a statue based on a figure created by art students and brought to the square shortly before the crackdown in which hundreds, if not thousands, of people were killed.

The removal of the monuments testifies to the ruling Communist Party's efforts to erase the bloody events from the public consciousness. It also comes as the party snuffs out democratic challenges in Hong Kong to its rule.

On Thursday, a monument at the University of Hong Kong was dismantled, wiping out one of the city's last remaining places of public commemoration of the crackdown. The government has never provided a figure on casualties and the pro-democracy movement remains a taboo topic in mainland China.

Hong Kong and Macao, the two semi-autonomous territories, were the only places on Chinese soil where commemorations of the crackdown were allowed until authorities banned annual candlelight vigils for two consecutive years. In a statement, Chinese University confirmed the removal of the statue and said it had never authorised its display and no organisation has taken responsibility for its maintenance.

Separately, Lingnan University also removed a bas relief memorial wall display dedicated to the memory of the June 4 movement. The university's decision was predicated on the "overall protection of the university community," Hong Kong Radio TV reported. AP

Four people injured amid shooting at mall in US

Oak Brook: A shooting at a suburban Chicago mall full of Christmas shoppers left four people injured on Thursday, police said. The incident at Oakbrook Center in Oak Brook began with two males involved in a shootout in a corridor around 5.45 pm, police Chief James Kruger said. He said the injuries were not life-threatening. Three people who were shot may have been bystanders hit by ricocheting bullets. One person was in custody, Kruger said. "This is just a very unfortunate incident that is completely out of character for our area," the chief said.

Bengaluru-based influencer Niharika NM speaks to CE about being named as one of the '25 under 25 Instagrammers of India' by the social media platform

Creatively Content

MONIKA MONALISA

A few years ago when Niharika NM started doing comic skits, it was only because she wanted to give it a try after being told she is "funny". But the year 2021 couldn't have had a better ending for the influencer who has been named as one of the '25 under 25 Instagrammers of India' by the social media platform.

Speaking to CE from Los Angeles, she says the news has been surreal. "This entire journey has been overwhelming, but if there's one thing I've learnt along the way, it is to be grateful. I cannot tell you how much love I hold for the people who have supported me and my content to a scale where I'm now on a list that is a first of its kind," says Niharika, who is currently pursuing an MBA at Chapman University, California.

The 24-year-old recently attended the world premiere of Spiderman: No Way Home, where she got to watch 'Spiderman with Spiderman'. "It was unlike anything else I've experienced before. Also, having been a part of the Marvel cult since I was 10, this experience was huge," she says. But for her, the highlight of the event was when she got to meet actor Terry Crews. "I had the honour of meeting one of my idols. I had to really maintain my composure because I did not know how to act around him," says Niharika, unable to contain her excitement.

Although many would dream of being in Niharika's shoes, the Bengaluru girl is still unsure about being called a 'content creator'. "It's a huge and incredibly important part of my life. I don't think there is anything else I could do for a job that would make me as content as being a creator, which is why I allow it to consume my life at most times. However, no, it is not my full-fledged career option yet," says Niharika, who has close to 1.9 million followers.

Niharika has been sharing funny skits along with content creators Ruhee Dosani and Kusha Kapila. This content creator meet-ups surely look fun and Niharika could not agree more. "I absolutely love meeting other people from the industry because I'm always curious to see their creative process to get inspired," she adds.

My USP is a good script. I'm a Bengaluru girl which is why people are able to relate to me. I absolutely love meeting others from the industry because I'm always curious to see their creative process and get inspired
— Niharika NM, influencer

Although in most of her skits she speaks in a South Indian accent, she believes her USP is a good script. " I don't think my USP has only been the accent, it's definitely an element alongside storytelling, expressions, delivery and a good script. All of this helps make the video what it is," says Niharika, adding that she is planning to juggle between India and LA. "I'm 100 per cent the Bangalore girl which is why people are able to relate to me. For now, the plan is to be back for a month or so in the summer," she adds.

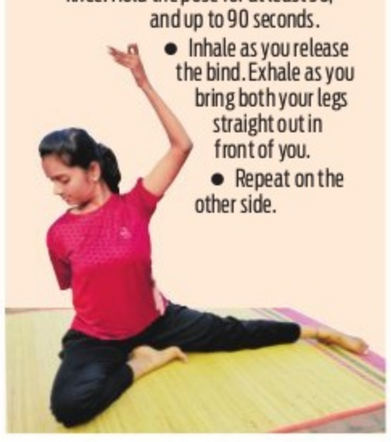
FIT BIT

ARDHA BADDHA ARDHA UPAVISHTA KONASANA

(HALF BOUND HALF SEATED ANGLE POSE)

In Sanskrit, 'ardha' means half, 'baddha' means bound, 'ardha' means half, 'upavishta' means seated, 'kona' means angle, and 'asana' means pose. It is not a beginner seated leg stretch. This asana is believed to help balance two of the body's chakras, or energy centers: Svadisthana (spleen or sacral) chakra, which is associated with receptiveness and adaptability, and Muladhara (root) chakra, which is associated with groundedness, stability and a sense of security.

STEPS
- Sit on the floor with both your legs straight out in front of you.
- Engage your Mula Bandha, Uddhiyana Bandha, and Ujjayi Breathing.
- Exhale as you bend your left knee and bring the sole of your left foot toward your right thigh.
- While exhaling, bring your right leg out to the right side, keeping it strong and straight by pulling up the kneecap and engaging the thigh muscles (quadriceps).
- Press your right toes and your right heel to the floor, lifting the right leg slightly off the floor.
- Inhale as you expand your chest and hold your arms straight out to the sides, parallel to the floor.
- Exhale as you bend your left arm and reach your left hand behind the back to the inside of your right thigh to bind.
- Inhale as you reach your right arm up to the sky. Exhale as you bend your right elbow and look toward your left knee. Hold the pose for at least 30, and up to 90 seconds.
- Inhale as you release the bind. Exhale as you bring both your legs straight out in front of you.
- Repeat on the other side.



BENEFITS
- Helps to strengthen and tone the abs, spine, knees and legs.
- It also helps to massage the entire spinal column.
- Very beneficial for varicose veins patients.
- Helpful to cure diabetes.
- Regular practice stimulates the internal organs and improves balance.
- Stimulates intestinal peristalsis, alleviating constipation.
- It tones the sympathetic and parasympathetic nervous systems, strengthens the core muscles of the back and helps to realign the spine.
- Removes tiredness from the legs.

LIMITATIONS
- If you have stress-related headaches, migraine, eyestrain, low blood pressure, osteoarthritis of the knees or bulimia, avoid this.
- If you have back injuries, and patients with ulcer and hernia, back pain, slip disc should avoid this.

TRAVEL DIARIES

I TOOK off for short sojourn to my favourite city Mumbai, to spend some quality bonding time with my munchkin. I also met up with a few of my (double vaccinated) friends and ate the most spectacular food! Without any doubt, Mumbai has the widest and best variety of food available in India. Now, before my 'narth' Indian friends start hopping around with a 'balle-balle' look on their faces, allow me to reiterate.

Mumbai is perhaps the largest melting pot of cultures and ethnicities with a generous dose of foreign 'imports' who have also made it their home. Also because it is the financial capital, the people who move into the city to find work, happily add their own flavour palate to this merry mix. It's a city where for a paltry sum of ₹10, one can still have a meal. That is, if one doesn't want to depend on the largesse of the generous Mumbaikers, who dole out hearty meals to the needy from shore to shore. I'm not even talking about the obscenely rich who buy aircrafts and shipyards for fun, but the average hard working man who will not forget to share his earnings with the people who need it. All over the city, there are eateries that serve the hungry. One can leave any amount of money and the bhatyaras (cooks), will feed those that lineup.

No one asks or cares from whence you came or who you owe your allegiance to...there is always a hot meal waiting. I once asked the ex-police commissioner of Mumbai, Julius Ribeiro, what that certain 'je ne sais quoi' that drove people in hoards to Mumbai was. He laughed throatily and with a twinkle in his eye said, "No one ever dies of hunger in this city'. That being said neither did I!"

Many friends from namma ooru have moved to Mumbai. Amongst them is good friend Sunaina Sahani, a corporate trainer and the most amazing pasta-maker (from scratch). She is my wise-beyond-her-years friend. She is petite and tiny but has a big strong heart. I call her my 'Napolean.' Since we are both such avid foodies, we met up for lunch. I too, had to show her that I still carried some clout in my ex-hometown, so I pulled all possible strings to get a reservation into the premiere hotspot at Bastian in Worli. The next four hours were spent eating and talking non-stop and after that too, it was brewed coffee at her home till the cows came home. Sigh!

Kunal Chauhan was the handsome GM of a Palace hotel in Bengaluru and has now moved to take over JW Sahar, Mumbai. It boasts of one of the best home-style Italian restaurants in the city. Beautiful ingredients were cooked up just like his 'mama made it', by their talented chef Roberto Zorzoli, which in turn, made the meal perfect! I did a quick scan of the huge restaurant and was happy to note that there were an eclectic mix of 'no-fuss' guests all enjoying their hearty Italian dinner. There is something about that city that makes our Bengalureans glow. Kunal is positively ecstatic!

I was pleasantly surprised to get a call from Chef Surjan Singh Jolly. I had met him when he was the EC for the JW Marriott group here and his name 'jolly' epitomised his sunny temperament. He has shifted base to London where he owns a successful Bengali restaurant 'Chourangi'. He is a judge with Master Chef, TV Anchor, and a culinary consultant with a slew of national and international accolades. He did a one-hour podcast for Spotify with yours truly, where we spoke primarily about food, my life and achievements. I must say his research was spot-on. I was chuffed to re-call the body of work I had done...

There is something about Mumbai that makes us Bengalureans shine!

Sausage special

Ingredients

- Pork sausages 1 pack
- Small bunch spring onions, finely chopped
- Dried cranberries 50 gm
- Handful of fresh rosemary, chopped
- Fresh white bread 150 gm
- Egg beaten 1
- Streaky bacon 10 rashers

Method

Preheat the oven to 200 degree Celsius, and fan to 180 degree Celsius. Remove the skin from the sausages and put the sausage meat in a large bowl with all the other ingredients except the streaky bacon.

Season, and using your hands, work it all together until well mixed.

Form the mixture into 16 short sausage shapes and wrap each one in a piece of streaky bacon. Place on a baking sheet and cook for 30 minutes.

Tandoori Cauliflower

Ingredients

- Cauliflower head (approx. 1000 - 1200 gm) 1
- Onions large quartered 3
- Potatoes quartered 3
- Oil 3 tbsp
- Hung curd 1 cup
- Red chilli powder 2 tsp
- Kashmiri chilli powder 1 tsp
- Turmeric powder ½ tsp
- Coriander powder 2 tsp
- Chaat masala powder 1 tsp
- Garam masala powder 1 tsp
- Ginger garlic paste 2 tbsp
- Salt to taste
- Coriander
- Chopped for garnishing
- Lime Juice

Method

Wash the cauliflower and remove the stem and leaves, while keeping the flower whole.

Fill a large pot (big enough for the cauliflower) halfway with water and bring it to a boil. Once the water starts boiling, carefully place the cauliflower and blanch for 5 minutes. Strain and let the cauliflower cool down a bit.

Mix together curd, a tablespoon of oil, both chilli powders, turmeric powder, coriander powder, garam masala powder, chaat masala powder, ginger garlic paste and salt till blended.

Once the cauliflower is cool, rub the curd mixture on the cauliflower, potatoes and onions. Let it sit for 10 minutes.

Pre-heat oven to 200 degrees Celsius.

Brush an oven proof skillet or roasting pan large enough to fit the cauliflower with oil.

Place the cauliflower in the skillet along with onions and potatoes and brush with oil. Bake for 20 -25 minutes till the top is golden brown and the cauliflower is cooked through. (Half way through, brush once more with oil)

Squeeze lime juice and sprinkle coriander leaves on top. Serve immediately.

Home Bartending

MIXOLOGY
Krishnamurthy A R
The writer is senior beverage manager - Otto's Restobar - Bangalore

EVERYONE looks forward to partying before the year ends. However, the pandemic has put a dampener on celebrations over the last year, and this year is likely to follow suit. But this is certainly an opportunity for budding home bartenders, since the partying will probably shift to individual homes. Whether it is at your home bar, or you are helping out a friend at their place, you can literally be the 'toast' of the party and impress the hell out of your guests if you come up with some popular cocktails. Here are some favourite recipes, with a twist to the classics.

Rimli

- Tamarind puree 20ml
- Jaggery syrup 20 ml
- Lime wedges 4 nos
- Mint 10 leaves
- Chaat masala and salt
- Top up with soda water

Jal-jeera mojito

- White Rum 60 ml
- Tamarind puree 20ml
- Jaggery syrup 20 ml
- Lime wedges 4 nos
- Jeera powder 1/4 Hal jeera powder
- Mint 10 leaves
- Top with soda water

Classic cocktail - Mojito

- White rum 60 ml
- Sugar syrup 20 ml
- Lime wedges 4 nos
- Mint 10 leaves
- Top with soda water
- Add all the ingredients to the tall glass or available glass at home, give a gentle muddle add ice cubes and top it up with soda water
- Add mint as garnish and enjoy the drink.

Honey bee

- Gin or Dark Rum 60 ml
- Spiced honey syrup 15ml (3 parts of honey to 2 parts of water add-in spices and boil it for 30 mins on low flame)
- Lime juice 15 ml
- Orange juice 30 ml
- Shake all the ingredients with ice and fine strain into a chilled glass.

Whiskey lemonade

- Whiskey 60 ml
- Lime juice
- Sugar syrup
- Ginger ale or soda
- 1 sprig of fresh rosemary or mint and ice
- Muddle. Add the whiskey, Lime juice and sugar syrup, and a sprig of fresh rosemary or mint to a cocktail shaker. Use a cocktail muddler (or the end of a thick wooden spoon) to briefly muddle the herb.
- Strain the mixture into a cocktail glass filled with ice, pour soda or ginger ale garnished with an extra sprig of rosemary or fresh mint, plus a lemon peel or slice.
- Enjoy the Party!

XPRESS FOCUS

'Introducing 24 karat gold flakes perfume is a natural progression'

The House of C. Krishniah Chetty launched India's only premium, luxury Eau de parfum — Rare Scents. Chaitanya V Cotha, Executive Director, C Krishniah Chetty Group Of Jewellers speaks about real 24 karat gold flakes perfumes.

Tell us about the thought of expanding into perfumes.

Launching a niche luxury perfume brand was a natural progression as it aligns with our philosophy of how jewellery and perfumes go hand in hand. We wanted to create the first niche perfume brand homegrown to compete with any international brand. And finally, we have Rare Scents infused with real 24 karat gold.

What is the idea behind the branding -- Rare Scents?

The main idea is to make everyone smell good. The scent is one of the first things people notice. It always helps bring back any occasion or moment. So, if we had jewellery and smell working together, what better way to make a mark.

We have now achieved three out of five senses. We believe it is 'A Whiff of The Exotic!' Two more to go, and I am sure we will be able to achieve this with our outstanding, dedicated teams at C. Krishniah Chetty Group.

What is unique about each of the perfumes?

We believe each of our five scents — Aurum, Platinum, Adams, Beryl and Corundum, are unique in their way as each is a niche perfume homegrown in India, which has never been done before. They are:

- Niche perfume above luxury brands
- 120-160 ingredients used from 26 countries
- Real 24 karat gold flakes in all bottles
- Priced low internationally, will be 3X price
- Perfumer from Paris who made these scents
- Perfect for gifting and self-use
- Option to personalise with names (7 days lead time)
- 100 ml and 50 ml options

Tell us of any plans for future launches.

There are many things in the pipeline and all we can say is we are going to make things more transparent, more authentic, and make shopping fun.

DHANANJAY

BADAVA RASCAL

Cast: Dhananjay, Amrutha Iyengar, Nagabhushana NS, Rangayana Raghu, Tara, Poornachandra

Director: Shankar Guru

A SHARADHAA

THE tale of middle-class lives has been told umpteen times and so has the poor boy-rich girl romance. But Badava Rascal takes off from where many of such films left us. The story-telling is unique and so is the entire cast's approach towards the film. It retains an earthly feel in most parts and never lets go of the core essence. Debutant director Shankar Guru looks promising with his style of filmmaking. And he seems to have great chemistry with actor Dhananjay, who turned first-time producer for the film, and also with other actors, which reflects on screen.

The story of Badava Rascal, a local slang, traces the life of Shankar, (Dhananjay) with a few touches of the lives of his friends, who become part of his pursuits. Shankar is a middle-class youth, son of an auto driver (Rangayana Raghu) and a doting mother (Tara). An MBA graduate, who enjoys every moment of life in the small-knit family and with his couple of few good friends, runs an auto as a part-time job and aims at owning a few.

Destiny hooks him to Sangeetha (Amrutha Iyengar), a politician's daughter. They want to take their love to the next step and decide to spend life together. However, an incident distances the two, which also becomes the turning point in Shankru's life. How he goes about mending his life is one part of the story. Will Shankru, with the help of his friends, succeed in meeting his love forms the crux of the story, which comes with a predictable ending.

RATING 3.5/5

This tale, reflecting middle-class values, strikes the right chord with the audience. Shankar Guru, who has deeply observed and understood the lives of middle-class lives, has brought out the experiences in his writing. With elements of drama, love, sentiments, action, and comedy -- all coming with some punch dialogues, Shankar manages to stay within the story and let the characters do the talking. However, the film, which becomes slow-paced at times, might test the patience of the audience.

Dhananjay

Dhananjay, who often enjoys relating to the common man with his inspiring roles, has effortlessly portrayed the next-door middle-class youth's character. Rangayana Raghu and Tara are the film's soul. Amrutha justifies her role in the limited space. Nagabhusan, who plays Dhananjay's good friend, appears throughout the film, and his light-hearted humour works. Poorna Chandra Mysore's character will be appreciated by all.

The romance between Dhananjay and Amrutha is brought through the song Udupi Hotelu composed by Vasuki Vaibhav, who has also come up with a good mix of tracks. DOP Pretham Jayaram, who has brought in the local flavour, has managed to capture the emotions of each character up and close. As a film that explains middle-class life, love, relations, friendship, emotions...Badava Rascal turns out to be a class and mass entertainer

Avatara Purusha to release on Sankranti?

CE FEATURES

THE makers of Avatara Purusha, who had initially planned to release the film on December 10, decided to push the release date owing to Covid fear and the emerging Omricon wave in the state. The buzz is that the production house, Pushkar Films, which is now looking for a new release date, is allegedly planning to hit theatres on Sankranti (Jan14).

As Telugu and the Tamil industry are coming up with a series of releases for the festival, producer Pushkar Mallikarjunaiah wants the people of Karnataka also to celebrate the occasion by watching a Kannada film. He is currently in discussion with the team and with various exhibitors about the theatrical release. If everything goes as per plan, the production house will officially confirm the release date soon.

The supernatural comedy-drama, starring Sharan and directed by Suni, is one of the most awaited films in Kannada. The film, featuring Ashika Ranganath as the female lead, also stars Sai Kumar, Sudharani, Bhavya, and Kitty. The film's music is composed by Arjun Janya, and the cinematography is by William David.

Avatara Purusha comes in two parts, and the first part, with the tag line 'Ashta Digbandana Mandalaka', will bring Sharan's popular characterisation blended with humour.

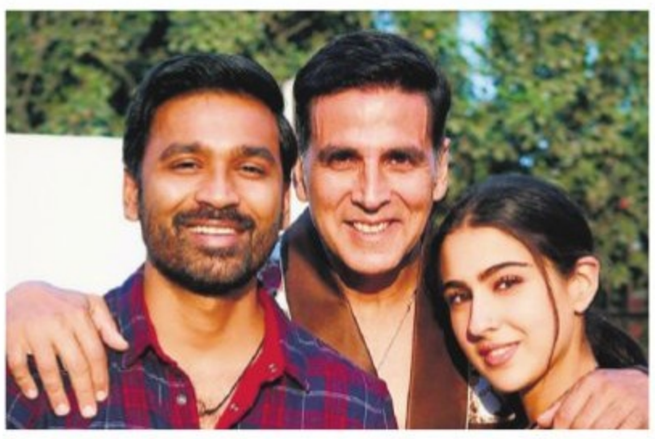
ATRANGI RE

Cast: Dhanush, Sara Ali Khan, Akshay Kumar

Director: Aanand L Rai

Streaming on: Disney + Hotstar

AVINASH RAMACHANDRAN



DHANUSH, AR RAHMAN SHINE IN A RATHER INSIPID LOVE TRIANGLE

TOWARDS the intermission point in Atrangi Re, there is a big reveal, the response to which determines the audience's acceptance of the latest Aanand L Rai film. We see Akshay Kumar's Sajjad priming his horns to play the antagonist of sorts in the star-crossed love story of Vishu (Dhanush) and Rinku (Sara Ali Khan). Akshay is visibly revelling in the idea of playing this OTT character, and beside him, we see a beaming Sara feeling the same, and we cut away to a bathroom stall where Dhanush invokes the Raanjhanaa title song and performs a quick dance. Basically, despite the ludicrousness of the central premise, all three actors have their versions of fun on screen. But there is only so much that spirited performances and a brilliant score can do when the writing is messy and all over the place.

RATING 2.5/5

Atrangi Re begins with a forced marriage between Rinku and Vishu. While Rinku is forced into marriage because she is forever trying to elope with the love of her life Sajjad, Vishu finds himself at the wrong place at the wrong time as he becomes victim to the now-infamous groom kidnapping in certain Indian states. There is an unnecessary sense of urgency in the first few minutes of the film, and before things can even come to a much-needed pause, we are asked to take a leap of faith about Vishu harbouring feelings for Rinku. Come on! Even Dhanush's exceptional histrionics in that "love proposal" scene can't really fill in for the shallowness of the proceedings. Unlike the writing in Ranjhanaa, which gave us a sense of why Kundan was head-over-heels in love with Zoya, here we don't really know what makes Vishu like Rinku. Like, of course, she has a lot of spunk and a serious non-understanding of time, space, and privacy, which makes her the stuff of dreams for many of our heroes. However, Vishu's transition from being plain irritated at her to becoming all doe-eyed around her is painfully coercive.

This weirdly magical journey is elevated by one of AR Rahman's recent best works. Although a bulk of the songs are used to hasten the narrative of the first half, it is only with the power of this music that we embark on this middling journey. Also special mention to Pankaj Kumar's colourful visuals that give Atrangi Re an almost fairytale-ish feel to it. But one can not just shake off that feeling of incompleteness that stems from Atrangi Re's writing choices. Of course, there is that "twist" that, well... isn't as convoluted as the makers deem it to be. And when their ONE trump card isn't groundbreaking enough, Atrangi Re ran the risk of becoming saddled with fatigue and it does so in an emphatic fashion.

For all its chest-thumping on inventiveness and refreshing outlook at the time-tested narrative of the vagaries of love, Atrangi Re doesn't quite deliver on what was promised. It actually feeds into stereotypes rather than break them, or at least skirt around them. While it is smart how Dhanush is cast as a doctor in this film, the use of his, and his friends' medical expertise is milked for easy but unsmart laughs. Another unsmart thing is definitely how Rinku's character arc develops. Although Sara is earnest as Rinku, the role turns out to be too gimmicky for a film of this potential. However, the more underwritten part is that of Akshay Kumar, and despite a cherubic and upbeat performance, Sajjad doesn't quite create the intentioned flutter.

Just like every Himanshu Sharma-Aanand L Rai collaboration, Atrangi Re too deals with an all-encompassing love that crosses all physical and mental boundaries. Just like all their films, the concept too is a fascinating one even if it borders on the old-fashioned. However, despite a solid cast, brilliant music, and spectacular visuals, this time around the successful collaboration misses the target by quite a distance. Just proclaiming the film is "funnily weird" isn't enough if it takes itself too seriously, and being neither funny nor weird, Atrangi Re settles down in a space that is just well... plain. And that's the worst thing that can happen to a world created by one of our most maverick writer-filmmaker duos.

KABIR KHAN'S FILM IS WISHFUL BUT ENTERTAINING

SHILAJIT MITRA

83

Cast: Ranveer Singh, Pankaj Tripathi, Saqib Saleem, Tahir Raj Bhasin, Jiiva, Deepika Padukone

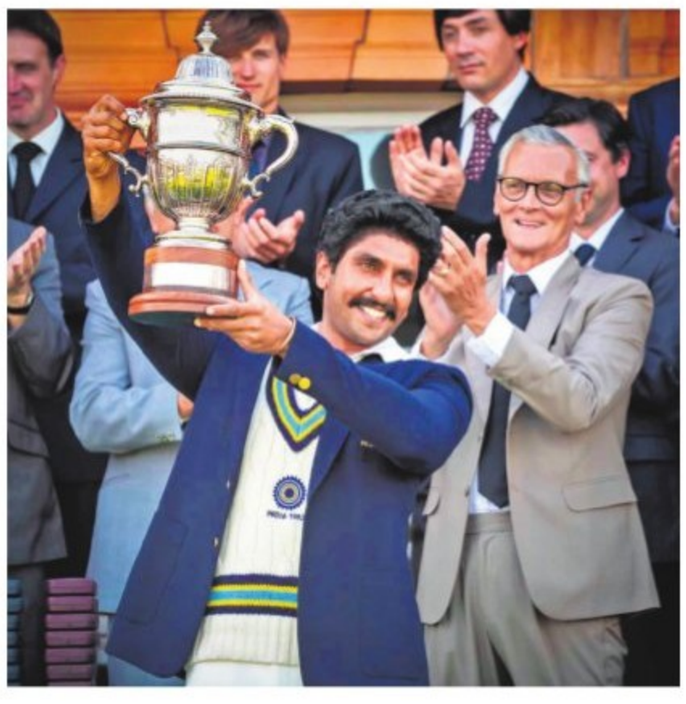
Director: Kabir Khan

IN Kabir Khan's first film, Kabul Express (2006), a journalist and a soldier get into an argument over who is the greatest all-rounder in cricket. The soldier elects Imran Khan; the journalist, under great duress, counters with Kapil Dev. The argument gets so heated that Suhel (John Abraham), the reporter's dispassionate friend, has to break it up. "Cricket is a bloody waste of time," he grumbles from the front seat. "11 players standing in a field scratching their crotches..."

The blasphemy of that statement—which both shocked and tickled me when I first heard it—is greatly undone in Kabir's latest. 83 is the director's ode to cricket, its innate power to move and excite. The sport and its glory are given central attention in this 163-minute film. It begins with the Indian team convening for the 1983 World Cup in England and Wales—and it ends with them winning it. There are no extended backstories for the individual players. Kabir, playing to the widest gallery possible, does not bother with history lessons. Any context is snuck in sideways, PR Man Singh telling a young Kapil Dev that we won freedom in 1947, but not respect.

The Kapil in this film is played by Ranveer Singh. Excluding the Santa Claus voice ("Shorry, Shorry..."), the actor gets a lot right, from decisive bowling action to post-wicket celebratory run. Yet, more than the physical resemblance—which is fine—it's his mix of energy and introspection that ultimately anchors this film. Outwardly, his Kapil is great fun, both on-field and in the jolly downtime between matches. But we also see the other side to this captain. Told to address his team for the first time, Kapil hesitates, saying seven of them are his seniors. His faltering English—initially just a comic track—becomes an important plot point in the story. The film could have gone with either: master strategist or a nervous lad. Ranveer, though, gives us both.

The fun kicks in with the Indian side struggling in the group matches. They're an odd, funny bunch—giggling around the Queen, pulling pranks on each other. We begin to see them as types: Srikkanth (Jiiva), the chain-smoking charmer; Yashpal Sharma (Jatin Sarna), the resident hothead; Roger Binny (Nishant Dahiya), the brood. Gradually, though, a more complex dynamic emerges. Following a misunderstanding with Kapil, Sunny (Tahir Raj Bhasin) drops out of a match. He recovers and comes around, as do other players in a fix. It's a fine way to introduce new setbacks without interrupting the narrative flow. But it lacks wit. Why would Balwinder Sandhu (Ammy Virk), facing a personal crisis before an important game, be so simpleminded as to be lectured by Kapil, who is three years his junior?



Perhaps the in-team excitement is necessary. This film, after all, shuns a clear antagonist. The West Indies squad—represented by the formidable duo of Clive Lloyd and Vivian Richards—is portrayed with swagger and verve. Kapil even talks highly of the defending champs, in a scene that acknowledges the colonial ties between the teams. Yet this sportsmanship isn't reflected off-field. A West Indies supporter is shown as a cruel heckler during a match. And when India beats out England in the semis, it's those sour Brits who start a fight.

Kabir parallels these events with scenes from home. Indians in the early 80s weren't as cricket-crazy as they are today. However, two initial wins—followed by Kapil's smashing at Tunbridge Wells—gets them watching. This is where 83 is at its most wishful. We're shown soldiers braving enemy shelling to listen to radio commentary, a Muslim family opening the door to riot police. Kabir and his writers (Sanjay Puran Singh, Vasan Bala, Sumit Arora) pump up the emotions to a fever pitch. The song Lehra Do is the cinematic equivalent of a doosra spin. It is bound to get you in the feels, the most battered spot in a Kabir Khan film.

83 isn't the sharpest of sports spectacles. Its insistence on detail and technique is soon replaced by high drama. The delectable dryness of 80s cricket is majorly missed in the film. What's undeniable, though, is the occasional smartness of the writing. Kapil refers to his mongoose bat as his 'talvar', an apt metaphor for the bat's design as well as the battle at hand. Early on in the film, we see him drop a catch—fans of the 1983 finale can wink at what this means. These devices animate the film better than the soundtrack (or Boman Irani's tension-dissipating commentary).

Deepika Padukone's cameo has been teased enough to pack any surprises. There are other cameos, real and fictional, to please fans. Kabir's ALL CAPS filmmaking is at full force in 83. I watched it with other journalists, and there were teary eyes all around. The moment was best summed up by Mohinder Amarnath (Saqib Saleem) on screen. "Kisi ko bolio mat main ro raha tha," he tells Kapil at one point. "Don't tell anyone I was crying."
